Smut Back on Borough Stands

Hundreds of years ago, Shakespeare's Macbeth in one of his darker moments, shrieked, "Out, out, damned spot!" But the spot wouldn't leave.

Months ago, Pottstown shouted, "Out, out, damned smut!" But apparently the smut—like the spot—doesn't want to leave either.

A check yesterday of the borough's magazine racks revealed that the same kind of literature that had the community up in arms at the beginning of the year seems destined to be on hand for the end of the year.

The past January, an anti-smut campaign was launched by clergymen who said the literature flooding the borough was "smutty," "degrading," "filthy" and "obscene."

The campaign was waged vehemently by clergy, business, and The Mercury for more than one month.

By the end of the campaign, the committee named to solve the problem had received a promise from the distributors who controlled the flow of literature through the borough that the smut problem would be studied and rectified.

But yesterday's investigation by The Mercury showed that although the dam set up was doing some good, there was obviously a leak in the wall.

Exactly the same kind of magazines and books that were pointed to the past January by clergymen as being "filthy" are still in plentiful supply in at least three Pottstown stores.

A 16-year-old boy just recently was sold a copy of the same monthly magazine that was called "the worst of them" (Continued on Page Five)

These are the type covers that were to be found on some of Pottstown's magazine racks yesterday, ten months after a vehement campaign against "smutty" literature. For a while the magazines were removed from store racks but lately they've been seeping back in.

Good Will Truck Helps Pumpers In Shenandoah

A Good Will fire company pumper made a trip to Shenandoah over the weekend to draw water rather than pump it, officials disclosed yesterday.

The truck and six Good Will firemen made the trip at the request of the Pottstown police to help recover the contents of a safe that had been stolen from Pottstown and which now lay at the bottom of a deep mine stripping.

The safe was discovered months ago, but police wanted to recover the records, automobile stickers and checks and see if refuse from any other robberies had been dumped into the water-filled hole.

The safe had been stolen along with $1300 from the Cates and Becker company, West High street.

CHIEF RICHARD Lindauer said yesterday that the Good Will company had received his okay to make the trip.

Robert Roth, chief of the Goodies, said that the truck went "as a service to the borough. The only thing the borough is paying for is the gas. The truck and the time of the six men who went along is all donated."

The Good Will truck only worked on the job for one day.

But Plainclothesman Lewis Borgiet said that the Shenandoah fire trucks worked a total of 30 hours pumping out the hole.

"The reason we asked Good Wills to come up the first day was that the Shenandoah trucks wouldn't have been sufficient."

Borgiet said State police as well as police from various communities, including Shenandoah, were anxious to see if the pit contained any other evidence of robberies.

Nothing else was found, however, Borgiet said.

Area Army Man To Seek 3d Win In Global Match

The world series of bombing and navigation is in progress in New Mexico this week and Pottstown is there.

Leading the 93d Bombardment wing of the Castle Air Force base, Calif., in the Strategic Air Command bombing and navigation race is Lt. Col. Edward L. Stefanski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stefanski, Pottstown RD 4.

The area's highest-ranking military officer will be shooting for a record third championship in the six-year-old SAC event.

Castle Air Force base now enjoys two victories in the world-wide competition, more than any other entry.

Entered in the event are 21 SAC teams from major Air Force bases in the United States and a crack Royal Air Force crew from England.

Participating aircraft will include B-36s, B-47 jet bombers and B-29 and B-50 Superfortresses. Colonel Stefanski will fly a B-50 Superfort.

A CAREER Air Force veteran with 30 rugged bombing missions over Europe during World War II, and recipient of the Distinguished Flying cross and Air medal with three oak leaf clusters, Stefanski enlisted in 1941.

The bombing and navigation competition was started in 1948. Castle Air Force base won the championship in 1949 and repeated the past year.

Competition began yesterday and will be concluded on Saturday.

Stefanski's 30 combat missions over Europe include such well-known targets as Wilhelmshaven, Frankfurt, Berlin, Stuttgart, Brussels and Schweinfurt.

On one mission his co-pilot's coat sleeve was cut neatly from his arm by a bullet belched from an enemy fighter, and on another flight through the flak-filled skies the plane was riddled with enemy fire until it resembled a green

MAN ARRESTED FOR PASSING FALSE CHECK

Hunch by Police Leads Them to Suspect

COMMITTED TO JAIL FOR FURTHER INQUIRY

A hunch by alert Police officers, a co-operative Reading company ticket agent and a suspicious clothing salesman yesterday led to the arrest of a man suspected of passing a false check here.

The handsome 29-year-old suspect, who wore a charcoal suit and a neat blond mustache, was arrested by Sgt. Thomas A. Lawler and Patrolman William Myers, just 20 minutes after they were put on his trail.

The man, who identified himself as John C. Rutter, Orwigsburg, Schuylkill county, was nabbed by Lawler and Myers at 5:23 o'clock outside the railroad company waiting room as he waited to board the late afternoon train to Reading.

He wore a dark gray, expensive hat, a dark blue shirt, a red and gray striped tie and dark-rimmed glasses.

Police said he appeared casual and calm even after arrest and might have been taken for a seminarian or a young business executive.

He was committed to the borough lockup for investigation on a charge of "issuing a false check."

Police sent out a teletype on his arrest.

The story started in a High street real estate office in mid-afternoon.

A man strolled into the office and asked a clerk for a blank check.

He filled out the check for $20 payable to the order of cash and signed it "John C. Rutter."

He then strolled to Lengels Clothing shop on Charlotte street and asked Proprietor Norman Lengel to cash the check.

He said he lived in Reading and gave his address.

When the man departed with the $20, Lengel called the address in Reading and he was told by a voice on the other end of the phone that their

Man Lurking in Garden Attacks Mother of Two

By STANLEY ZAWADZKI and NORMAN REED (Mercury Staff Writers)

A mother of two young boys was struck down from behind and assaulted in the back yard of her Collegeville RD 2 home late last night. She had stepped out of the kitchen to empty a pail of garbage. Until the early morning hours today, scores of State troopers, Lower Providence auxiliary police and police officers, together with Collegeville police, scoured the area.

They called off the search after 1 o'clock this morning after failing to find any trace of the unknown attacker.

The assault victim, Mrs. Charles M. Fidler, was taken to Montgomery hospital, Norristown, where she was treated and discharged.

THE 30-year-old mother of two sons, six and four years of age, took out some garbage around 6:30 p. m., her husband said.

"After about ten minutes, I missed her. I went out to the yard and found her. She had been struck on the head from behind and knocked unconscious," he said. "I just missed him in the darkness."

"I was in the living room the whole time, but I didn't hear a thing. He must have covered her mouth and struck her. She never saw him."

State police at the Jeffersonville barracks were immediately alerted. Eight troopers under Corp. John Kulp and Chester Krepski, criminal investigator, organized a search.

They were aided by 20 men of the Lower Providence Auxiliary police who were on duty at the fire house on Hallowe'en patrol.

Lower Providence Chief David Burns said the auxiliary had been activated this week to fight Hallowe'en vandalism. The men were called out and joined the search with State police.

"The Fidler home is located just off Route 422 on Mile Hill," Burns said. It's on Baker street, just below Evansburg. "The area in back of the homes there is thickly overgrown with weeds, undergrowth and heavy woods. We covered every inch of this on foot and then started out in cars."

"We fanned out in a radius of five miles, but couldn't find anything."

"State police are going to check the whole area today."

United Fund Chiefs Expect to Reach $100,000 by Today

United Fund officials are expecting to top the $100,000 mark by the time the last man has spoken at this afternoon's first report meeting.

"This is strictly a guess, however, because we don't know to what extent people in the industrial and other divisions have been solicited," said Chairman Howard W. Bartholomew last night.

"But the teams have been doing a bang-up job and showing lots more enthusiasm and determination than ever before. That is what we are banking on to help us reach our goal."

This year's goal is $182,000, of which $75,000 already has been received through advance gifts.

THE INDUSTRIAL division is the largest of the four major groups in the drive. The others are classified, townships and residential divisions.

Today's meeting will start at noon with a dinner at the YMCA, following which the reports will be made. The date of the next report meeting also will be announced at the meeting. About 75 persons are expected today.

Persons who do an outstanding job in the campaign will be recipients of Bartholomew Cup awards, it was announced last night by Executive Secretary Vinicio Fisher.

Car-Truck Crash Injures Area Man

A Pottstown RD 4 motorist, victim of car-truck sideswiping on Route 100, South Coventry township, was reported in "satisfactory" condition in Pottstown hospital late last night.

Augustus Needs, 68, told South Coventry Chief Robert F. Conway he was driving north on 100, rounding a curve at Pigeon creek, when a coal truck, heading in the opposite direction struck the left front of his car.

Conway estimated damage to 1953 truck and 1948 sedan at $1000 each.

Paul H. Bretzius, Pine Grove, Pa., driver of the truck, admitted to Conway he was driving on the wrong side of the road.

He said he dozed at the wheel and when he saw the car he pulled the truck to the right in a vain attempt to avoid the collision.

Tons of pea coal, bound for Wilmington, Del., were sprayed over the highway.

Needs suffered possible chest and leg injuries. X-rays will be taken today.

The entire left front of the car was damaged and the left front of the truck was smashed and the frame was twisted.

Enforcing of Curfew Weighed by Griffith

"The curfew tolls the knell of parting day," might be rephrased to apply in Pottstown. "The curfew spells the beginning of fun and frolic." And this would be especially true for Hallowe'en.

With vandals brandishing tomatoes, firecrackers, stones, sticks and cans of paint, many communities weeks ago planned for the annual Fall attack by reviving curfews for Hallowe'en.

Burgess William Griffith, who has thus far done nothing in this direction "to relieve the borough of posty and even, dangerous vandalism, last night said of Pottstown's curfew ordinance, "I've been thinking it might be a good idea to revive it for the week."

"I see other communities are doing that. I may do that tomorrow."

Griffith was pointing to the ordinance which both he and police committee handed back and forth like a hot potato this past Spring.

Eventually everybody dropped the ordinance, and although it remains on the books, it is not enforced.

IT REMAINED for Pottstown police to do a little curfew enforcing themselves when they picked up two carloads of youths loitering in the borough several months ago and promised a borough-wide

Rain Is Promised By Late Tonight

Hunters and farmers throughout the area began a period of watchful waiting yesterday. They are watching the skies and waiting for rain.

For the farmers it would mean the beginning of the long battle of recovery of crops and cattle from drought-inflicted setbacks.

Hunters would be assured that the State's small game season would open Saturday as scheduled.

By last night, however, nothing was certain.

THE WEATHER BUREAU promised some rain by late tonight, but refused to go out on a limb on how much of a downpour would be provided. There was no indication whether the showers would top those of the weekend.

In Harrisburg, the State Game commission promised to give the

At least one man has declared open war on Pottstown area vandals.

Philson is owner of the historic Mt. Pleasant schoolhouse, where he discovered extensive vandalism yesterday.

"The door was broken in and the window glass kicked out from inside," he reported. "The inside walls were marked up, too."

He said that the pump on an outside well was broken off, making it useless.

Philson explained that he had planned to restore the old schoolhouse for use as a museum.

The Trojans have arrived and let's hope they believe it themselves. If they lose another game this season it will be because their mental attitude fails to offer the stimulus that puts their talent to the test.

After watching Pottstown High buffet West Chester, 7-0, the past Saturday, all the second guessers are replaying the season, and at this point they feel the Trojans should have lost only to Norristown. We don't advocate second guessing, but it's a tribute to the Trojans' ability for their followers to figure two of the losses should have been victories - namely Upper Merion and Phoenixville.

But since the psychological factor is so important, possibly that loss to Phoenixville will do more to keep the Trojans on their toes than anything else. There are no setups in the league. Even the oft-beaten Raiders of Coatesville are capable of ruining the title aspirations of any of their next four opponents.

The general impression around the league is that West Chester is the best equipped to win the title. They have size, hard-running backs and experience. But the Warriors' pennant chances were severely jostled Saturday. Why? Because there was a special something tingling in the Trojans' collective backbone, heart, head or any place in the anatomy you choose, but they had it. Now if the Trojans can only remember where they put the prescription, they can take it back and get it renewed for the game at Berwyn next Friday night.

JUST WHO was the leader in the spirit campaign is hard to tell. We didn't hear any sentimental rumors about "Winning this one for Jack." But maybe the loss of co-captain Jack Ebel offered one of the ingredients that went into the inspirational concoction mixed up by the Trojans.

The other co-captains, Joe Rettew and Flip Smoyer certainly played like leaders on the field. Smoyer, operating at defensive end kept his flank well guarded and none of the Warrior backs made much headway in his direction.

Rettew was definitely a standout on defense. His trip tackles as Charlie Lawson sliced into line held the feared WC runner to short yardage all afternoon. Like most of his mates, Rettew was tackling low and hard.

Another Trojan velter weight who stopped the light-heavyweight runners cold was end Jim Porter. This 145-pound Senior was a rock at his position and time and again he was conspicuous as he dropped Steele or Anderson as they tried to cut back inside right end.

There isn't space to name every PHS player who offered his best defensive effort of the year. But an untold amount of credit must go to Tony Giangiacomo and Al Bodolus. Since these two entered the lineup as linebackers against Phoenixville, the Trojan defense has improved immeasurably.

GIANGIACOMO is a rough and ready customer that delights in contact. Bodolus has been operating as center man behind the line which gives him a good chance to roam in either direction. His speed makes him most valuable in this spot, as he has displayed by dragging down several runners from the rear on end sweeps.

The pass defense of Bodolus and Howie Bedell has improved so much since last year that the Trojans now have the makings of a fine shield against enemy aerials. Bodolus pulled back to swipe a pass in the first half and Bedell snatched another right out of an intended receiver's hands in the second half.

The old pro, Red Kerr, played his usual steady game. Last year it wasn't until Kerr recovered from shoulder injuries and returned to the lineup that Pottstown could stop the opposition's passes. This season Kerr has excelled on pass defense and Saturday he was at his best. His two over-the-shoulder catches were as nice as any Red ever made in left field. The general consensus in the press box was that if the Trojans had more Red Kerr's they would be unbeatable. Against West Chester they were loaded with Red Kerr's.

Turning to the offensive side of the game, Pottstown was just about as good as at any time this campaign. The team has scored more points and rolled up greater yardage but all factors considering it was still probably their best attack.

West Chester presented a big rugged line but the smaller Trojans outchugged them at every turn. That gave Bedell a chance to step and step he did.

HOWIE HOPPED and twisted and dodged and drove like at no time since last year against Downingtown. In the second half he became a dangerous weapon. At the end of each of his runs there would be a West Chester player lying on his back.

Bedell has held up remarkably well for the beating he has taken. Getting smacked down on those end runs about 15 times each game is no picnic. He is a sitting duck for charging linebackers. But on Saturday it was more appropriate to feel sorry for the linebackers the way he was hitting. He also picked his way through the secondary much better than usual, side-stepping and dancing like a Charlie Justice.

The ball handling of Josh Sova is developing rapidly. And his punting was a big offensive weapon for the Trojans. He had punts of 53 and 50 yards from the line of scrimmage, plus two others of 38 and 37. The 37 yard boot went out of bounds on the WC seven.

After his many years of coaching, Heeb Meyers has seen "high" teams and "low" teams in action many times. If only there was some way of keeping the boys "up" for every game, there would be many less sleepless nights in the coaching ranks.

ONE FACTOR that should motivate that "up" reaction among the regulars is that so many of the reserves are ready to take over at a minute's notice. Tom Lindauer played a capable game at center. Joe Lipko was a terror on defense after MacShirvey was hurt. Don Keifrider makes yardage everytime he gets a chance at the fullback job. Larry Jones, Jim Leveille and Carl Burns carried out their assignments in first string fashion.

Keep those spirit pills handy Trojans and you'll go a long way.

Joe Ondo Snaps Monopoly

The men finally made it. Joseph Ondo, 363 Cherry street, picked eight out of ten to win the past week's Mercury Football Forecasters contest. His choice of Penn over Navy entitles him to wander into the Mercury office and pick up his four ducats to the Turkey day game between Pottstown and Downingtown at a date to be announced later.

But the women were not to be denied.

Mrs. Mary A. Laubmeier of Stowe, picked seven right and named the point difference in two games, Pitt-Northeastern and Ohio State-Wisconsin, to break a deadlock with three others who also had seven right. The others who came close but didn't quite make it were Mildred Seybold, A. Richard Seybold and Mrs. Albert M. Drede.

Mrs. Laubmeier can also pick up her two tickets to the Downingtown game at the Mercury office.

The actual scores of the past Saturday's games were:
Pottstown 0, West Chester 7.
Alabama 7, Mississippi State 7 (tie).
Penn 9, Navy 6.

Hill School Form Grid Teams Split With Boyertown, Coatesville Squads

In four football games played at Far fields yesterday, Hill School won two and dropped two, but the two wins overshadowed the losses, as the blue totaled 71 points against its opponents total of 43.

The Hill School Fourths blanked the Coatesville Thirds, 39-0 and the Hill Thirds took their game with the Coatesville High school jayvees, 32-19. On the losing side of the ledger, the Blues Sixths were blanked by Boyertown Junior High, 12-0, and the Boyertown Junior high JV's took the Hill Sixth Seconds by the same margin.

The Hill Fourth's started rolling it up early in their clash with the Coatesville Thirds. Gray Perkins sparked a first period drive that carried from the Hill 40 to the Coatesville 25. A play later Kurt Wieneke shot off tackle and went the distance. Perkins kicked his first of three conversions to make it 7-0.

Later in the same period, Ted Price recovered a Coatesville fumble on the visitors' 20 and two plays later Jerry Orr carried over from the 15. Perkins kick was no good. John Gibbs tallied for Hill in the

Fesler Praises Gopher Squad

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 26 (UPI)—Coach Wes Fesler tempered lofty praise for Minnesota's upset victory over Michigan Monday with a firm warning against a letdown in the Gophers' televised game of the week with Pittsburgh this Saturday.

Fesler called Minnesota's performance one of its greatest in recent history, considering the high caliber of the opposition. But he added a lapse against Pittsburgh could be ruinous in the Gophers' comeback drive.

The Minnesota coach said there was always the danger of a letdown for a non-conference game, especially after the team's all-out effort against Michigan.

Fesler didn't restrain his praise of All-America Paul Giel for the latter's terrific one-man show. But he characterized the Minnesota victory as a magnificent team effort, and singled out tackle Stan Canakes and end Jimmy Soltau for top-notch line play.

The Gopher varsity took things easy Monday, confining most of their work to light drills against Pittsburgh formations. Fesler pushed the reserves through a brisk scrimmage.

second period with a 25 yard off tackle thrust and Perkins made the extra point. A pass from Sam Hinkle to John Fowler in the end zone and the conversion by Perkins made it 27-0 at the half.

HILL'S LAST TWO scores came in the third and fourth frames. Don Ray passed to Jess Freeman for 10 yards and a TD, and after Fred Day carried from the Coatesville 40 to the three, Warren Clucker sneaked over for the last score.

The Hill Thirds broke a tie in the second half of their game with the Coatesville High school JV's, then went on to roll up 19 points in the second half to win going away, 32-19.

Bob Neff, Hill right end from Pottstown, scored three of the Blues TD's, the first on a pass from Nick Knerr in the first quarter. Steve Feinstein's kick was good. Coatesville scored in the opening frame when Joe Mose went over on a sneak from the Hill one. Coatesville took the lead when Ned Frear's punt was blocked and recovered in the end zone. A few plays later, Knerr traveled 40 yards on an option play to tie the game.

Coatesville finished its scoring for the day when Pete Townsley went over on a pitchout from Moses from the Hill four. A fumble by Knerr on the Hill 30 set up the marker.

Knerr's pass to Neff was taken on the four and Neff went over to score. Feinstein's try was no good, but Hill started to run it up when Knerr passed to Neff again from about 20 yards out for the second Hill tally in the third quarter. Again Feinstein's kick was no good. In the final stanza, Feinstein carried from the visitors 40 to the five then went over on an end run. His try for the extra point was no good.

BOYERTOWN Junior high stepped into the picture to spoil an otherwise perfect day when Dennis Shaffer plunged across from two yards out for a first period score following a blocked Hill kick on the 45. Nelson Reiner passed to

Trojan JV's Beat Warriors, 14-7, on Last-Second Scores

Touchdowns in the final seconds of each half gave the Pottstown High junior varsity football team a 14-7 victory at West Chester yesterday afternoon.

It was the fourth win in five games for Coach Bill McCabe's jayvees, and their third in a row. After spotting the Warrior juniors seven points early in the first period, the Trojans snapped back to tie the count on a 25-yard run by Al Bodolus on the last play of the second quarter. Dick Groff kicked the extra point and the deadlock continued until the watch showed only 43 seconds remaining in the game.

The Trojans were marching and from the West Chester 15, Jim Gibbons flipped a pass into the end zone to end John Osuch. Groff again booted the point and the young Trojans' copped another win.

Pottstown opened the game by kicking off. The Warriors ran the ball back to their own 25 and then started to move. Several short passes over the middle kept the drive rolling. It took the Warriors four downs from the Pottstown eight to push the ball across as their fullback barged over from the one. The point was added and the lead looked good for many minutes.

THE TROJANS finally got rolling in the second quarter with Don Keifrider and Joe Lipko lugging the ball. With time running out, the Trojans were on the WC 25 when Gibbons called the jayvees pet scoring play. It was a wide double reverse to Bodolus and the slender Junior was off and running just before the whistle sounded ending the half.

A holding penalty against Pottstown on the West Chester five prevented the visitors from breaking the tie in the third quarter.

They eventually lost the ball on downs on the seven and had to wait until near the end of the game for their next chance.

End Coco Kerlin, a slashing defender made the break for Pottstown by hitting the West Chester passer so hard that he fumbled and the Trojans recovered near midfield.

Keifrider raced for a pair of first downs to the West Chester 30, and Bodolus and Lipko carried down to the 15 with 46 seconds remaining in the game.

GIBBONS had directed his attack entirely on the ground all afternoon, but he decided it was time to go to the air. He faded back and located Osuch open in the end zone and fired a straight and true pass. Groff, who gets plenty of chance to kick extra points for the high-scoring jayvees, again split the uprights.

West Chester had time to run two plays after the kickoff.

Training Habits Questioned

Turpin Headed for BBC Carpet

LONDON, Oct. 26 (UPI)—British middleweight champion Randy Turpin may be subject to disciplinary action by the stewards of the British Board of Boxing Control as the result of his poor showing against Bobo Olson in their world title fight in New York last week.

Turpin's training — or lack of it — was sharply criticized by British boxing writers who saw him in the United States. Jack Solomons, the London promoter who controls a major share of the fight business in Britain also was critical. Solomons said yesterday after arriving from New York that Turpin deserved to be brought before the stewards.

WALTHAM TOLD the press he hoped to finish his report in a day or two for presentation to BBC President J. Onslow Fane.

"It will be for Mr. Fane to decide whether the report should go before the next meeting of the stewards in about three weeks time for any possible disciplinary action," Waltham said.

In preparation for the biggest middleweight fight since Turpin lost the world title to Sugar Ray Robinson in New York in 1951, Turpin sparred infrequently, spent entire days lounging around his Grossinger, N. Y., camp, complained a bout homesickness and "things on my mind" and threatened to abandon the fight if anyone bothered him.

Waltham said he would "prominently feature the unorthodox training" in his report.

"Speaking personally," he continued, "I consider his preparation was inadequate for a fight of such great importance. He was like a man going in for a mile race and being tired out after 100 yards."

"PRESTONE" ANTI-FREEZE GIVES YOUR CAR FULL 4-WAY PROTECTION

- 1. AGAINST freeze-ups in cold weather, boils off on warm days. One shot lasts all winter.
- 2. AGAINST rubber decay, radiator clogging, and pin-hole leaks developing from rust spots.
- 3. AGAINST corrosion of the cooling-system metals.
- 4. AGAINST foaming off and resulting loss of solution.

MECHANICALLY-MINDED CAR OWNERS...SERVICE MEN...ENGINEERS...

Save Trouble, Money . . . and Your Cars with these Simple Facts from the World's Largest Anti-Freeze Laboratory

Most all-winter anti-freezes are made of glycols . . . high boiling-point, low freezing-point compounds. These properties prevent boil-off when the weather turns warm; prevent freeze-ups when the temperature drops. Thus, they do what alcohol can never do.

However, to make an ideal anti-freeze suitable for modern engines, glycols need 3 special additives:

1. A specially compounded oil inhibitor: (a) to form a microscopically-thin film over small rust spots which otherwise might break through and result in pin-hole leaks; (b) to lay any loose rust that may be in the cooling system, and keep it from circulating and thus plugging up the radiator; and (c) to plate out on rubber hose and seals, and thus to prevent the rotting of these parts by water penetration.
2. A chemical inhibitor to prevent corrosion of the cooling-system metals. Seven metals are commonly used in automobile cooling systems—cast iron, steel, copper, aluminum, brass, lead and tin (solder).

"PRESTONE" anti-freeze has this special oil inhibitor. It is not pretty in a test tube or a bottle, but it does a marvelous job of making rust stay put and of preventing pin-hole leaks. No anti-freeze without such an inhibitor can do these jobs.

3. An anti-foam to prevent the solution from foaming during fast driving, and thus spilling out through the over-flow tube.

"PRESTONE" anti-freeze contains an anti-foam which is unsurpassed by that of any other anti-freeze.

The additives in "PRESTONE" anti-freeze are the result of thousands of tests by leading cooling-system engineers and research scientists in the laboratories of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation at Tonawanda, N. Y., world headquarters for anti-freeze facts and cooling-system data. These laboratories are the authority for our statement that no other anti-freeze gives the same complete protection as "PRESTONE" anti-freeze. There are no substitutes of equal value. There is nothing else like it.

US Charges Torture Center Directed By Soviet on 'Germ War' Confessions

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—The United States declared today that Russians directed a Communist torture center where false confessions of germ warfare were wrung from US fliers in Korea—even after the armistice. The Russians entered a denial.

Dr. Charles W. Mayo, US delegate, presented the charge before the UN Political committee. Dr. Mayo said an interrogation center known as "Pak's Palace" near Pyongyang, North Korea, was staffed by Chinese and North Koreans but directed by Soviet personnel.

"Many of our fliers were interrogated there by Soviet personnel," the Minnesota surgeon said. He told of a Kansas flier who refused to write a confession despite 1800 hours of questioning directed by Russians.

Dr. Mayo said US fliers were reduced to a level lower than that of animals, and that the tortures were designed to be more terrible than medieval methods.

"They are calculated to disintegrate the mind of an intelligent victim," he asserted, in order to make him destroy his own integrity and produce an elaborate fiction.

"If anything is surprising to me," he observed, "it is that so many of our soldiers—both those who confessed and those who did not, although for months they were treated like animals or worse—somehow continued to act throughout like men."

ALLIES REBUKE RED STAND ON TRUCE TALKS

North Koreans Insist Neutral Nations Be Admitted

PANMUNJOM, Tuesday, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Allies of the Korean war rebuked the Communists today for repeatedly insisting that neutral nations be invited to the Korean peace conference.

US Ambassador Arthur Dean, representing the 16 Allied nations that fought the Reds three years in Korea, told the Communists at the second session of preliminary talks:

"If we invite the neutral nations, admirable though they may be, we may turn the political (peace) conference into an endless debating society. In the meantime our troops face each other across an uneasy armistice."

"The great and urgent task now confronting us," said North Korean Representative Ki Sok Bok, "is to speedily determine through negotiations the neutral nations concerned to participate in the political conference and thereafter to reach specific agreement on time, place and the procedural, the administrative and related questions as to arrangements."

News Woman Sued By Ingrid Bergman

ROME, Oct. 26 (AP)—Swedish film star Ingrid Bergman appeared in a Rome court today to tell the judge why she is suing a Swedish newspaper woman for 10 lire—about one cent.

Bigi Rybrant, Rome correspondent of the Stockholm Aftonbladet, defendant, told the judge her side of the story, too.

It all started the past December, when Ingrid complained that an interview she gave the Aftonbladet correspondent was published as a signed article written by herself. Miss Bergman told the court she wished to have it made clear that she did not write the article.

The judge postponed the case until Nov. 28, expressing hope that the two women would, in the meantime, "arrive at a friendly settlement."

DR. MAYO SAID the Communists accused 107 captured fliers of engaging in bacteriological warfare. Of these, 17 are listed as missing and 14 are known dead. He did not say how they died. He said 40 refused to sign anything, but 36 signed under duress.

Jacob A. Malik, Soviet delegate sitting in place of Chief Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky, responded that the United States had forced airmen who confessed to germ warfare to repudiate their confessions under threat of prosecution.

He called Dr. Mayo's statement "a lie and slander which we repudiate."

He tossed in a resolution by which the assembly would call on all countries which have not done so to ratify the 1925 Geneva convention against chemical and germ warfare.

The United States has refused to ratify it, demanding more than paper promises to stop such practices.

Medical Men Hear Of 'Simple Method' For Finding Cancer

ATLANTA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Development of the first "simple" method for detecting stomach cancer—involving use of a "rotating brush" inserted down through the mouth to collect tissue cells from the stomach wall—was reported today.

Dr. J. Ernest Ayre of Miami, Fla., said the method was the first, other than X-ray, which could be done by any general practitioner—and he added that X-ray sometimes cannot distinguish between ulcer and cancer in the stomach.

He told the Southern Medical association (SMA) at its 47th annual meeting that the collection of cells requires only five minutes, yet appears to compare favorably in accuracy with previous stomach cell-collecting techniques which he described as more difficult and time-consuming.

One of them—involving use of an inflatable balloon to collect cells through abrasive action on the stomach wall—requires up to two hours, Dr. Ayre asserted. He reported jointly with Dr. B. G. Oren, also of Miami.

Dr. Ayre told a reporter that while final appraisal of the value of the technique will require studies of "thousands" of cases, trials so far "indicate definite promise and the possibility that the accuracy may eventually prove greater than previous techniques of this type."

Grim Searchers Probe River, Bridges For Missing 15-Year-Old School Girl

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 26 (AP)—Grim searchers probed every bridge and culvert, river and slough today for trace of missing 15-year-old Evelyn Hartley, fearful they would only prove the words of her sobbing mother:

"We know she isn't alive."

Evelyn, a pretty high school honor student, vanished Saturday night from the home of Viggo Rasmussen, where she was baby sitting. Bloodstains were spattered around an open basement window, on the lawn and on a basement window well of a neighbor's home 200 yards away in the sparsely settled new section of town.

Police followed every trail because no single one stood out.

Today 150 students and faculty members from La Crosse State college, where Evelyn's father is a biology professor, probed every bridge and culvert within a 50-mile radius of this Mississippi river town of 43,000 residents. Sheriff's deputies trekked along rivers and sloughs.

Three men have been questioned in the case but Police Chief George Long said all were cleared and released.

MRS. RICHARD HARTLEY, the girl's mother, appeared composed today when she visited the home of Rasmussen, also a teacher at La Crosse State. But when she viewed the bloodstains she broke down completely. Her body shook with sobs as she said, "We know she isn't alive."

Evelyn's father went to the Rasmussen home Saturday night after his daughter failed to telephone home as she usually did when out baby sitting, and his calls to the Rasmussen home were not answered. Peering through a front window of the house, he saw a shoe and his daughter's glasses on the living room floor.

The doors were locked but a basement window screen had been removed and the window, with bloodstains and footprints around it, was open. Hartley entered through the window and found his daughter's other shoe in the basement. The Rasmussen's 20-month-old daughter, whom Evelyn was tending was sleeping unharmed in her crib.

The Rasmussen home was not burglarized. Rugs in the livingroom were disarranged but everything else was in order.

Mrs. Rasmussen, who had hired Evelyn so she and her husband and 7-year-old daughter could attend a football game, said "Peeping Toms" had been reported in the neighborhood but she had never been troubled.

Bloodhounds brought to the scene yesterday followed a trail but stopped at a street two blocks from the Rasmussen home, leading police to believe the girl had been taken away by auto at that point.

Pittsburgh Reports 18 More Polio Cases

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26 (AP)—City health officials reported 18 new cases of polio in the district today, raising this year's total to 381 compared to the 297 reported in 1950, the worst previous year.

The death total for the year remains at eight. The death total in 1950 was 16.

BENSON REJECTS PLEA ON PRICES BY CATTLEMEN

'God Help Livestock' Is Cattle Growers' Answer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson today at least temporarily rejected a plea by hard-hit cattle growers for immediate and direct Government price supports for the livestock industry.

Benson, under fire from several directions over his farm policies, told the disappointed cattlemen he has an "open mind" toward any feasible program to ease their distress.

But he strongly indicated that he is inclined to favor some other method than direct supports.

HE DISCLOSED, during an interview, that he had seen her this

Dorothy's Parents Call Report 'Lies'

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 26 (AP)—Dorothy McGuire's parents tonight branded as "just lies" reports the girl singer would marry crooner Julius La Rosa and added they are "sure she is just as aggravated in New York as we are here."

La Rosa, who lit out on his own after being fired from the Arthur Godfrey radio and television shows, said earlier today he hopes to marry Dorothy, one of the McGuire sisters trio.

Asa B. McGuire of nearby Miamisburg said his daughter is "happily married" to Sgt. John Brown, now in Korea.

He quoted his wife, the Rev. Lillie McGuire, as saying talk of the reported romance is "all a mistake."

McGuire called the whole thing "just publicity—just lies."

He'd Quit if Necessary La Rosa Reports Hopes of Marrying Dorothy McGuire But Says He Is Faced With Legal and Religious Problems

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Julius La Rosa reported today he hopes to marry attractive Dorothy McGuire but said there were religious and legal problems to be worked out.

La Rosa, fired from the Arthur Godfrey radio-television shows a week ago today, is a Roman Catholic. Miss McGuire, 22, is not a Catholic and still is married to a serviceman, Sgt. John Brown, from whom she has been living apart. Her mother, Mrs. Asa McGuire of Miamisburg, Ohio, is a minister.

The 23-year-old singer, hired by Godfrey two years ago upon his discharge from the Navy, said he had been conferring with a priest on his problem. He declined to say whether he would wed without approval of his church.

Showing signs of extreme nervousness as he sat in the apartment of Ed Sullivan, on whose Toast of the Town he made his first post-Godfrey TV appearance last night, La Rosa said Miss McGuire was the only girl he had ever wanted to marry.

morning and later went to another room to answer a telephone call from here. Miss McGuire is one of the three McGuire sisters on the Godfrey programs.

La Rosa said he was deeply concerned over "hurting other people."

"If it means hurting other people I'm going to quit this business—I mean it," he said, as associates sought to calm him.

He expressed fears that involvement of his romance with Miss McGuire in the furor over his firing from the Godfrey show had meant embarrassment to her parents and his. With a touch of bitterness he said he could not understand the involvement of his personal life in the situation.

Sullivan advised him that one of the prices of fame was having the public interested in one's personal life.

Newsman who sought to reach Miss McGuire for comment were barred from the CBS studios where the Arthur Godfrey morning program originates.

Godfrey made oblique reference to the case when he was applauded during the show by the studio audience, remarking: "Oh, I've still got a few friends."

"I seemed to have been singularly devoid of them in the past week," he declared.

La Rosa had dinner with Miss McGuire and several of his business associates last night following the Sullivan telecast on which he received loud applause from the studio audience.

He related that upon return to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore La Rosa, in nearby Mount Vernon, N. Y., early this morning he found a stack of letters

Expert Pooh-Poohs Black Widow Danger

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Black widow spiders have jumped back into the news again.

Long Island housewives have complained the poisonous little creatures are creeping everywhere and should be destroyed.

Christian T. Williamson, superintendent of mosquito control up that way, agreed to spray. But he poohpoohed their alarm.

Why, Williamson said, when he was a kid he used to roll in black widows and never once was bitten.

It was this revelation of Williamson's boyhood sport—rolling in black widows—that brought a call to Dr. Edward A. Chapin, curator of insects at the Smithsonian institution.

Could a person really rool in black widows and not get hurt?

"I don't see why not," Chapin said. "It's very difficult to get a black widow to bite you. They're not at all aggressive, you know."

Pottstown's Prides

This attractive white house is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rohrbach and their two sons. The house is located at 801 Hale street.

There are four rooms located on the first floor: The living room, 13 by 15 feet, two bedrooms and the kitchen. The two bedrooms are on the far side of the house. There's a full basement under the house and the second floor, unfinished, is being turned into a bedroom now by the Rohrbachs.

Those are the two boys tossing a football out front. Steven, 6, is at left and Ronald, 8, is about to catch it. The Rohrbachs have planted two maples and two ash trees in the front of their home.

The home is trimmed in gray, newly painted this fall. Rohrbach works for Firestone Tire and Rubber company and the family has had the home more than four years.

Business Tour Set For 62 Local Pupils

Sixty-two Pottstown High School seniors will invade Philadelphia today on a "business" trip.

They will tour the Sun Oil company office buildings in the city center, where they will observe modern, large-scale office practice.

All pupils on the trip will be seniors in the local High School's commercial department.

Bertram P. Scanlin, one of the teachers who will go along on the trip, said that it would be made in two chartered buses.

"The pupils will tour the oil company offices in the morning," he explained. "In the afternoon, they will see a play at the Academy of Music."

The buses will leave from the Chestnut street side of the Senior High school at 8:30 a. m., Scanlin said.

Other teachers making the trip will be Alma I. Klink, and J. Robert VonDrach. Eleanor Cornmesser, librarian, will also go along.

MAN ARRESTED —

name was Rutter, but they did not know anyone by the name of John C.

The clothier then called the Citizens National bank and learned that a Rutter did not have an account there.

He called Desk Sgt. Russel B. Hummel at 4:57 p. m. Hummel relayed the message to Sgt. Lawler and Myers riding in the patrol car, and Lawler, on a hunch, drove to the Reading station.

There he asked Paul Weidensaul, ticket agent, whether a man who filled Rutter's description had purchased a ticket.

Weidensaul had seen no one who looked like Rutter.

Lawler and Myers drove away from the station and minutes later got a radio message to return. When they arrived Weidensaul ran outside and pointed to the suspect.

When police grabbed the man, he was reading a magazine. He had stopped for a shoe shine on his way to the station.

He told police he returned from Detroit two weeks ago when he learned his mother was in ill health at her home in Orwigsburg.

He said he came to Pottstown Sunday night and explained he was going to Reading to visit a cousin, before seeing his mother.

Among his possessions were a golf glove and a wooden tee. He said he was a pro golfer and went over a long string of the Nation's best professionals. His bad nerves were blamed for quitting the game.

Rutter said he was graduated from Orwigsburg High school in 1942.

Police confiscated $18 of the $20 and his train ticket to Reading.

Obituaries

The INFANT SON of Stanley and Grace (Shaner) LIGHTCAP, 124 SUNRISE LANE, was dead at birth Sunday night in Pottstown hospital.

He was one of twins born Sunday to the Lightcaps. The other twin survives.

Other survivors include his parents, two sisters, Grace Elizabeth and Ruth Evelyn, at home; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lightcap, 316 North Evans street; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kline, Royersford.

Graveside services will be at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Edgewood cemetery, with the Rev. George A. Lineker, rector of Christ Episcopal church, officiating. Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Houck Funeral home, 112 North Washington street.

MARGARET AUGUSTA (MERKERT) MEREDITH, 85, widow of John G. Meredith, died at 9:45 p. m. yesterday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ackerman, 12 EAST VINE STREET, STOWE, where she had lived for the past 33 years.

She had been ill for the past seven years and had been bedfast for the past five years.

Born in Ashland, Schuylkill county, the daughter of the late Lorenz and Emaline (May) Merkert, she came to Pottstown in 1902 and had lived here ever since.

She is survived by two daughters, Adeline, with whom she made her home, and Grace, widow of Henry Ancona, 11 North Hanover street; a sister, Gertrude Merkert, Royersford; six grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

She was a member of Christ Episcopal church.

Funeral services will be held from the Houck funeral home, 112 North Washington street, Thursday at 3 p. m. The Rev. George A. Lineker, rector of Christ Episcopal church, will officiate. Interment will be in West End cemetery.

Funeral services for MRS. S. ELIZABETH (THOMAS) CROSBY, widow of William E. Crosby, were held yesterday afternoon from her late home in BYERS, Chester county. The Rev. Charles G. Link, pastor of St. Matthews Reformed church, Ludwig's corner, officiated. Interment was in St. Matthews cemetery.

Pall bearers were Richard W. Crosby, Joel F. Dutton, Everett Ferguson, Ellsworth C. Maxton, C. Ray Woodland and David E. Woods.

Jacobs' Union Head Home From Parley

Mark L. Brown, president of Jacobs Local 3802, USW-CIO, and delegate to the CIO International wage policy committee meeting in New York city this past week, has returned to the local union.

Brown, who represented Pottstown-Norristown area unions at the three-day conference, was one of five committee members from District 7.

He was elected to this post this past Spring.

All of the 170 committee members attended the conference Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Members sounded ideas at the meeting, which are expected to be written out in the form of recommendations to be referred to the union's executive board.

WEATHER —

Deputy Game Protector Richard E. Blair, of Pottstown, outlined the situation.

Blair said last night that the commission's field directors would send their reports to the capital where they would be studied before a decision would be made.

The final decision rests with the Governor, who banks heavily on information provided by the Game commission and the Department of Forests and Waters.

A hopeful note was provided by Blair.

"The area here looks better than it did at the same time the past year," he said. "The rain did dampen the woods."

"Some sections are still very dry, the Sanatoga area, for example, but others are in pretty good shape. The Red Hill area is pretty wet."

"Whether the season will open on time, though, depends on the whole State, and not just our area. They'll consider conditions all over Pennsylvania before they decide."

Curfew will be in effect from 7 o'clock to 10 o'clock on Thursday, same time and same place.

Officers Re-elected As Last Man Club Holds 1953 Session

The first man in the Last Man club to drink a special bottle of imported champagne will be the last man in the club.

Members of this unique club which was formed in 1938 held their annual meeting last night and occupying the place of honor on the table was an aging bottle of French champagne.

When each of the 31 original members of the club joined, he pledged to drink the champagne if he became the last living member of the club.

Five of the members since have died and six moved away, but there was a perfect attendance record for the remaining 20 last night at the Boyertown American Legion home. The club is composed of World War I veterans and is affiliated with the American Legion.

CAPT. Joseph L. O'Connor, Spring City, recently repatriated prisoner-of-war in Korea, was the guest speaker and told members about his experiences as a captive of the Communists.

O'Connor spoke following a dinner at the home. The members paid tribute to the five deceased ones of the group and then re-elected the present officers for another year. They are:

J. Henry Hausmann, president; Herbert G. Jones, treasurer; Walter S. Hutt, secretary.

Hutt noted last night that the Pottstown club was formed by members of the borough's George A. Amole American Legion Post 47. For seven years, membership in this group remained open, but in 1945, with 31 members, the charter rolls were closed.

Once a year, the club meets and members can reminisce about the old days before returning to the regular routine of their daily existence.

Ivan B. Leaman, chairman of arrangements for last night's meeting, is a typical member of the club.

He served in the medical corps in France during the first big war and now is manager of one of the local food stores.

Also assisting in preparations for this year's "bottle-watching," were Joseph H. Burdan and Lloyd Yorgey.

Next year it will be Ralph Guest, James I. Gill and Elmer B. Haas who'll make the preparations.

Hallowe'en Paraders To Cavort Tomorrow

The 1953 Hallowe'en parade, sponsored by the Pottstown Hallowe'en committee in conjunction with the Pottstown Recreation commission, will be held tomorrow night.

The parade will begin forming at 6 o'clock on High street between Washington and Warren streets. The judging will be from 6:30 until 7 o'clock when the parade officially starts marching up High street.

The parade will disband at the Elks home where all participants will be served refreshments. The parade is for all boys and girls, in and around Pottstown, who are of Junior High school age and under.

The Pottstown Junior High school color guard and band, the Norco band, the West Pottsgrove band, and the Pottstown Senior High school band and drill team will participate in this fifth annual Hallowe'en parade.

THOSE SERVING on the Hallowe'en committee are: Grant Rohrbach, Rotary; Charles Fegely, Kiwanis; Carl Rittner, Optimist; Bill Fosnocht, Lions; Kathryn Yerger, Soroptimist; Robert Raugh Jr., ABC; Frank Anhalt, Jaycees; John Wirag, Elks; Chief James Laughhead, police; and Chief Richard Lindauer, Fire department.

Rain date for the parade is Thursday, same time and same place.

New Bus Schedules Working Nicely, Upper Pottsgrove School Board Told

School bus schedules, reports dental and hearing examinations and a long list of routine items filled the Upper Pottsgrove School board agenda last night.

Supervising Principal John B. Ferdinand reported audiometer (hearing) tests have been given First, Third and Fifth graders.

He said dental examinations had been completed by Dr. Walter W. Schell.

Children and teachers will participate in a school Hallowe'en party on Friday afternoon.

The board discussed bus stops, and next month will list stops on all bus routes. Permission for stops must be secured from the government in charge of roads on which stops are made, township county or State.

Ferdinand added that new bus schedules are "working out nicely" and all elementary children are home from classes by 3:30 p. m. daily.

The board authorized the purchase of two book cases and reported the new pump at the school is "working well."

The next meeting will be held on Nov. 30 at 8 p. m. in the school. Present at last night's session were John W. Fidler Sr., William E. Fetterolf, T. Ray Henry, Robert John and Harry W. Overholzer.

"Last year, following our first report meeting we had only $67,800. This year, we'll go into the meeting with more than that," he said.

Bartholemew will preside at the dinner, with Kenneth Nichols serving as master of ceremonies. Prizes will be awarded teams which have reached their quota.

Fisher said that Bartholemew has "really inspired the industrial division by using his plant (the Doehler-Jarvis company) as a pilot in how to do the job."

"He's spoken to all the shifts and supervisory personnel on how to do the job and has been setting the pace for industries in Pottstown," Fisher added.

Bartholemew cited the aluminum cleaning department at his plant as having done a particularly outstanding job of soliciting.

"They have the largest number of employees in their department and they have almost completed their solicitations," he said.

"The outlook is most encouraging, though we do have a long way to go yet," Fisher summed up.

"But we now expect to reach our goal," he said.

Orloles Pick 7 Delegates For Dec. 6 Convention

Members of the Fraternal Order of Orloles, Nest 150, last night appointed seven delegates and three alternates to the State convention in Lebanon Dec. 6.

Arrangements were completed for a children's Christmas party Dec. 17 in the Senior High school auditorium. Eugene Hohl, Orloles president, is in charge of arrangements.

Four applications for membership were received last night by the 22 members at the meeting. Hohl presided over a general business session.

North End Fire Company Hears Talk on Methods

Forty members of the North End Fire company last night heard a talk on fire fighting methods and equipment at a meeting in the Empire Hook and Ladder company building.

The speaker was Joseph F. Meskill, battalion chief of the fire training school in Philadelphia. President John B. Hartenstine presided at the meeting.

Who's Job to Cleanse Stalls?

ETERNAL vigilance not only is the price of liberty, but also is necessary to keep clean Pottstown's bookstalls!

Pledges by Pottstown magazine sellers that they'd keep the smut magazines and the girlie-girlie booklets off their shelves didn't last too long.

Pottstown's clergy exacted the pledges
the past January.

Already the smutty books are back on the stands; the same filthy, suggestive magazines are being sold to anybody who has the price—as was shown when a 16-year-old boy went down town and picked up some filth that soiled his hands.

These filth books aren't being sold at all Pottstown stores that handle magazines.
Drug stores have clean hands. But some center-of-town emporiums are featuring them, selling them to all comers!

Just 10 months ago the Rev. Donald T.
Floyd, pastor of Pottstown Trinity E. C. church, stood up in a borough council meeting and vowed a magazine at the solons. He asked that the bookstalls be cleansed of the filth.

Nothing but silence greeted him. But the Pottstown Ministerial association solved the problem by getting distributors to promise they wouldn't put the suggestive magazines on the stands.

That pledge has been broken.

Now who's the clerk?

Is it up to the clergy to remind the booksellers that they've deviated from the straight and narrow?

Is it a police duty to keep that sort of filth away from teen-agers?

Someone in authority should decide soon, because children of high school age are getting vicarious "thrills" out of passing around the suggestive material.

Trees Just a Nuisance?

TREES are a nuisance, as anyone who has been raising leaves this Fall can tell you.

Not only do they spread their discarded foliage all over the lawn—they are forever dropping twigs. They require fertilizing, watering, pruning and often major surgery.

Yet there are things to be said in behalf of trees. The leafage, even if a bother when scattered on the grass, is attractive raiment from the first pale green of Spring to the last flame of Autumn.

And when the branches finally are bare they present a new kind of beauty.

Beyond these outer charms, however, are deeper qualities that gradually impress themselves on the human being who accepts trees as his good neighbors.

Neglect them, desert them as he well may, they still stand in faithful guardianship when he returns.

Tossed about by summer thunderstorm, battered by wintry gales, the resilient trees roll with the punch and only rarely snap a limb or trunk.

Standing up thus to all sorts of weather, they are a courageous symbol to man, companions for his every mood.

Though he may blaspheme them for their untidy habits, he loves their rustling in the wind.

He feels elevated by the stately elm and the long-limbed maple, gayer when his eyes fondle the willow, more reliant with the solid oak. And if he has planted saplings and lived beside them as they matured, he is indeed lucky.

For few things are more satisfying than to have started great trees out on their fine mission to the world.

What This Country Needs

WE never did believe that a good five-cent cigar would do the country much good.
As for dollar whisky, we tasted some of that circa 1920-1933, and we won't mind it if we never do get another snifter. Two-dollar shirts and five-dollar shoes? Well, for those we could go.

But what this country really needs is a $500 automobile, a car without a bit of gunk but guaranteed to run from here to there —and on not too much gas. Comes now the news that the British Ford people are going to put out a car to sell at $770.

This should be the challenge of the century to Detroit even if, because of inflation and all that, the price tag must read $775. And there was a time when . . . Remember?

Recruit Youth to End Crime

A Solution for Crime

To the Editor: In order to combat crime in and around Pottstown, I have a plan and a few suggestions that I believe would help a lot.

Why not have Bryson Turner, chief of police in Rye, done? He organized a junior police department.
We should have men like Bryson Turner here in Pottstown!

You have to have the goodwill of the men on the force before you will have a competent and dependable and cooperative police department.

So get rid of your Burgess and chief of police and anyone else in the department who participates in your crummy politics.

Put someone in there that the people like.

Recruit the boys and girls of junior high, senior high and from every class room in all the local schools, including Stowe and Sanatoga.

Have a meeting once or twice a month. Hold them at the high school auditorium or at the YMCA. Elect officers among the young people.

Have two delegates from each classroom attend all the meetings.

I say two delegates in case one is ill and can't attend. Both delegates should attend all meetings in order to create interest and interest in this junior police organization.

Establish a reward fund just like some of the businessmen are doing at the present.
Reward each junior policeman or policewoman
$5 for any information leading to the arrest and conviction of a criminal or who so-ever may break the law.

And that includes arsonists and people who turn in false alarms.

To create perpetual interest in this organization hold swimming parties, roller skating parties, and dancing, have fights.

O'Dwyer Is Popular With South Americans

By RAY TUCKER

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26—The Kefauver committee's vast television audience may not believe it. But the self-exiled
William O'Dwyer, former Mayor of New York and Harry S. Truman's Ambassador to Mexico, is still one of the most popular Americans ever to represent the United States in this key Latin-American country.

Both officialdom and populace refuse to regard him as even a minor villain in New York politics or of the Senate crime investigation drama.

The late Dwight Morrow, the House of Morgan partner, who was drafted in 1926 by Coolidge to settle disputes over Mexico's confiscation of foreign-owned oil properties, tops O'Dwyer.

The kindly Josephus Daniels of North Carolina is more respectfully remembered for his lovable, human qualities, and his consideration of patricians and peons alike.

STREET NAMED FOR MORROW:
They have named a street after Morrow in Cuernavaca, the mountain hamlet where he bought a modest home to escape Mexico City's fierce summer heat.
The guides among the Mayan ruins in Yucatan never fail to tell tourists that Morrow contributed his own money for restoration of the relics of this vanished civilization.

But Morrow is best known as the father-in-law of Charles Lindbergh, whose romance with the banker's daughter began there. The good Josephus is becoming a memory.

O'Dwyer, however, is known and liked by everybody the writer questioned here and throughout the interior.
Mere mention of his name brings a smile to the faces of officials, headwaiters, taxi drivers, tradesmen, the priests of Puebla and the fishermen of Vera Cruz and Acapulco on the Gulf and Pacific Coasts, respectively.

"You Americans are unfair to O'Dwyer," said a well-informed Mexican lawyer. "We read regularly that he stays here because he doesn't dare to go home. But he was a good friend to Mexico. And you haven't sent too many friends as Ambassadors to us. You and the British don't think we are important enough for that. You are making a great mistake, in view of your troubles with Russia."

REASONS FOR POPULARITY: Why is O'Dwyer so popular, despite the besmirching of his reputation by Kefauver and New York grand juries? Without presuming to give all the answers, here are a few, and American diplomats at more important foreign posts might paste them in their hats:

For one thing, O'Dwyer speaks Spanish fluently and frequently. Many Spanish-Irish adventurers with similar names —O'Farrell and O'Higgins—fought to free Mexico from Spain's rule. He persuaded his ambassadorial wife, the former Sloane Simpson, to study and try the native language, although not too successfully.

Mexicans do not credit ugly rumors in Washington and New York about Hizazoner. It is reported that he is "broke," which contrasts strangely with contrary insinuations around Capitol Hill and Manhattan city hall. It is said that he does not dare to return for fear of indictment. It is rumored that he is a broken, lonely, unhappy figure. He is supposed to be a man without a country.

Experience With Drunk

To the Editor: To those of you who drive automobiles!

If you want to get a real scary thrill, just follow (at a safe distance) a drunken driver. He runs on and off the road, zigzags in the other driver's lane coming toward him.

You wonder how he just made it past that giant tractor trailer coming toward him, and he narrowly misses a concrete culvert while passing it.

He almost rammed into the back of a school bus, and he passed it before he was supposed to and almost hit two cute little girls.

At a dangerous intersection he goes through a stop sign; and on the other side he nearly scraped two shining new parked cars.

To you readers: It could have been your child or your car that was almost hit!

Now to top it all—the drunk throws out of his car window a big whisky bottle, breaking it all over the highway in jagged pieces.

Now me, if I were a cop, I could have thrown the book at him.

Julius LaRosa has been booked into Chicago theater for two weeks at $15,000 a week—with a chance of making $35,000 for the date on a percentage deal.
The young crooner's fate after being fired by Godfrey has other singers aghast.

"I wish Arthur would get that mad at me!"

Marlon Brando and Movita have resumed their romance. She's helping him make his 57th street apartment prettier.

Billy Daniels and his estranged wife finally are within yelling distance of each other on the subject of her divorce settlement. She started with $25,000 as her asking price, and he couldn't dig the dialogue. Now she's reported willing to take less, and his hearing has improved.

keeping denying the rift rumors, but their chums say sadly, "People in love, and with plenty of money, don't arrange to separate for six months at a stretch."

RICHARD WARD, the NBC color television exec, has a broken jaw—result of innocently walking into a crowd of wild cowboys who were being ejected from a West Side bar.

Jana Mason, the canary with the fabulous figure (at Basin Street) is making a fast climb up the success ladder.
In the same hour the past week, she signed to do two Bing Crosby shows and put her signature on a Decca contract.
She's been singing professionally for only 14 months.

Bobo Rockefeller is blowing the because he was in cahoots with the Rockefeller side of the tussle.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

JUNE F. is a pretty high school Senior.

"Dr. Crane, I don't know what to do," she said, anxiously. "For I've been going steady with the most popular boy in my class."

"But he wants to carry his petting too far. When I protest, he says all the other girls do what he wants and I am only old-fashioned."

"And now he threatens to jilt me if I don't give in to him entirely. That would be almost more than I could stand, for it would be so humiliating to my pride."

"Is it true that most girls give in to their boy friends before marriage?"

NO, IT IS NOT true. And boys who try to use this mob pressure on girls are simply bullies.

They belong in the same class as grammar schoolers who also try to employ similar mob psychology on their peers.

"All the other kids have bicycles!"
such youngsters will positively exclaim, as they hope thereby to force a bicycle from Daddy and Mother.

"All the other kids get to see two movies a week," they will argue, though they haven't any actual evidence at all.

Unmarried girls should read this column and thus get forewarned about the behavior of boys, for they are just as predictable as the weather.

YOUNG MEN usually date girls because of the ego-inflation which they obtain. They want to feel important, so they will try to use you girls to bolster their own social inferiority complexes.

For instance, a boy who isn't sure of himself among his own age group, will try to advertise his apparent "manhood."
So he will smoke cigars. He may also use profanity. He may drink beer or even whiskey, and loudly boast about how "tough" he got last night!

Then he may drive the car beyond the speed limits in order to make you girls gasp or cry out in protest, for he thinks his thus stands out as a bold, big he-man.

Actually, all of these things label him as a juvenile who hasn't matured emotionally, but who is pathetically eager to be thought a big shot.

If he dates a girl, he will naturally attempt to do whatever he thinks will stamp him as an older, more sophisticated male.

Why not deprive all drunken drivers for a two or three year period of their driving privilege?

A drunken driver cannot replace a dead child or a crippled mother.

So for the sake of our loved ones, let's get rid of all drunken drivers now!

Bus As Hearse

To the Editor: I agree with the reader who said funerals with police escorts should be banned (Objects to Procesions," Readers Say, Oct. 26).

But I have a solution in answer to his objection.

Why not have funeral directors put a large specially constructed bus at the disposal of their patrons?

The body would be placed in a rack and suspended from the ceiling. The mourners would then be seated along the sides of the vehicle as they would in a regular bus.

Thus there would be only one vehicle to make the trip to the cemetery and everyone would remain together.

The bus could take its time and those officiating at the ceremony could lead the group in prayer each time the bus pauses for a traffic light.

How 'Bout Newly-Weds?

To the Editor: While we're on the subject of cutting out police-escorted processions for the dead, how about doing something about newly-weds who are sped about town amid loud horn blowing.

If they want to make a lot of noise, why don't they blow their horns during the wedding reception? Then they can slip quietly away.

Besides, in a few months they'll be looking horns and wondering why they ever married each other.

Skippack Gra-Y Sels Hallow'en Parade Saturday Afternoon

SKIPPACK—Mrs. Wm. Kirk, R. D. 1 Collegeville, Cor. Phone Collegeville 7596, H. Hobbs, del. Phone Pottstown 6090.

Skippack Gra-Y are sponsoring a Hallow'en parade Saturday. The parade will assemble at Hallman Grove at 1:30 and will march at 2 p. m. through Skippack and will end up with refreshments at the fire house.

Prizes, which will be awarded by the Skippack Lions club, will be given for the funniest, best and most original costumes for girls and boys, couples, and family groups. All residents of the township are invited, and in case of rain, there will be a party for the children at the Fire house.

The Women's guild of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church held its October meeting at the church with 45 members attending.

A dramatic skit in eight scenes "What Makes Mary Tick?" or "How Church Women are Meeting the Challenge of Our day," was presented, with Jean Weber as Mary, and a supporting cast as follows: Mrs. Robert Kline, Mrs. George Kurgan, Mrs. Copeland Cassel, Mrs. Harry Pearce, Mrs. Raymond Place, Mrs. Willard Reiff, Mrs. Ann Black. The narrators were Mrs. Robert Unruh and Mrs. John Keyser. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wentzel, Mrs. Yurick and Mrs. Kober.

The new officers of the guild are, President, Mrs. Herbert Boock, Vice President Mrs. Walton Kober, Secretary Alice LeFever and Treasurer Mrs. C. Keller Tyson.

Local Lions Club To Entertain Official

The Pottstown Lions club will entertain a district governor of its organization tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Eagles Home association quarters.

The official is P. A. Lucente, district governor of a four-county district in the Philadelphia area.

Lucente, who lives in Glenside, is a former president of the Lions club there and is a Master Key member. He has served as a zone chairman, as deputy district governor and on the extension committee on Lions International, which has 10,316 clubs in 45 countries.

Lucente will be accompanied to-night by Deputy District Gov. John J. Culp and zone chairman Paul W. Barndt.

The meeting will be in charge of President Edward J. Sweeney.

SMUT BACK —

all" by smut investigators the past January.

The smut situation has changed. Of ten stores checked where magazines were sold, six of them contained no copies of the "girly" magazines.

But in the other four—right in the center of the borough—abnormally developed girls in subnormally undeveloped costumes were plastered in exotic poses on dozens of magazines whose pages were devoted entirely to the display of nearly nude women.

The book purchased by the juvenile concerned itself totally with sex. It included articles on sex, sex hygiene, sex methods, fetishes, wedding-night etiquette, and diagrams and sketches to elaborate the article.

This was the book cited (not by name) the past Jan. 12 by the Rev. Donald T. Floyd, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Congregational church, when he launched the smut campaign at a meeting of borough council.

The "girly" magazines purchased contained printed articles on various subjects connected directly or indirectly with sex, also. BUT BESIDES these magazines, a study of the pocket books on sale reveals that the preoccupation with sex, both obscene and perverted, continues to mount.

Several novels and "confession" books dealt with homosexuality among both sexes.

Others, supposedly "slice of life novels," deal with call girls, do-gooders, sex murderers, and husband-wife "experiments."

Next to these are the hundreds of comic books, streamlined over yesterday's to take advantage of a more sophisticated youth.

DR. C. R. PENTZ TO OPEN OFFICE

He'll Specialize in Obstetrics and Gynecology

Announcement was made yesterday that Dr. Clarence R. Pentz has opened an office at 348 High street where he will specialize in obstetrics and gynecology.

For more than 15 years before coming to Pottstown, Dr. Pentz practiced in Long Beach, Calif.

He has recently completed one year of graduate study at the University of Pennsylvania

and one year of work at St. Luke's hospital, Bethlehem, under the university's supervision.

Following that study, he was accepted by the American college of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Dr. Pentz's wife is the daughter of the late W. H. Saylor and Mrs. Saylor, Kenilworth. The couple will live in North Coventry.

And still another new type of small magazine has sprung up in the past few months. These purport to be picture magazines that also give news coverage.

But a look inside reveals that the "news" coverage is devoted almost entirely to the relaxations of Broadway chorus girls, the scenes behind the scenes of a beauty contest, the newest Hollywood starlet bathing in milk, or the other extreme, cannibals whipping another in darkest Africa.

DURING the campaign against such literature being sold the past February, the Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, said from his pulpit:

"If the district attorney of Montgomery county doesn't have the courage to express an opinion of them, there are those of us who have. They are just plain smut. The big problem is what to do about them."

The committee of clergy and businessmen thought the problem had been solved in mid-February when they held a meeting with the two men who distribute most of the magazines and books through Pottstown.

At that time the two distributors said they'd co-operate in every way possible to help stop the smut problem.

Girl Treated for Dog Bite

Bernice Pereni, 413 South street, was treated in the office of Dr. S. Russell Ash, yesterday afternoon for a dog bite on the upper lip and nose.

She was playing when a neighborhood dog attacked her. Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy ordered the owner to keep his dog tied for 10 days.

World Peace Is Goal Of Rotary Clubs, Says Daniel Bause

"Rotary clubs in 86 countries and geographical regions throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace."

That was the message of Daniel E. Bause, Sr., Boyertown, governor of District 265 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary club last night at the Boyertown inn, following a conference with local Rotary officers, directors and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 8000 clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Bause explained, "Rotary International has spent more than $1,350,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowships, which enables outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as ambassadors of good will."

"Since this program was established in 1947, 493 Rotary fellowships have been awarded to students in 55 countries. A recent student from the Rotary foundation has just completed his studies at Queen's college, England," according to Bause.

BAUSE STATED THAT Arlan P. Dohrenburg, Hamburg, desired to further his studies in England and that the Rotary foundation made this possible.

Bause pointed out that each foreign student goes home to his respective country with a rich experience of the country he lived and studied in for a year.

"With fellowship and service to others as a keynote, Rotary provides a common ground for 372,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of differing nationalities or political or religious beliefs," Bause concluded.

Paper, Rag Drive Set by Cub Scouts

James Burfete, cubmaster of Boyertown Cub Scout Pack 1, announced last night that the regular monthly meeting of the pack scheduled for tomorrow night, had to be postponed and would be held on Thursday night, Nov. 5 instead, at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown.

Burfete also reported that the boys will conduct a paper and rag drive on Saturday beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning. He urged all citizens to participate and give their old papers and rags to the boys.

Funds derived from the sale of these items are used to promote various events of the troop.

Motorist's Indictment Is Ordered Quashed

A motion to quash the indictment against John R. Cleaver, Boyertown RD 1, on a motor law violation was sustained by Judge Warren K. Hess in Berks county court on motion of William George, attorney.

George told the court the information was defective and improper. James F. Erisman, State trooper, was the prosecutor. The district attorney's office agreed to the dismissal.

Boyertown Principal Named to Council

George B. Swinehart, supervising principal of Boyertown joint schools has been elected a member of the executive committee of the Lehigh Valley School Study council.

The committee will meet Thursday at Muhlenberg college, Allentown, to formulate detailed plans for the study of five teaching and administrative problems in the public schools.

A group of administrators will study problems associated with school consolidations and jointures.

Reading Man Fined On Speeding Charge

Earl R. Hain, Schuylkill avenue, Reading, was fined $10 and costs by Judge Forrest R. Shanahan in Berks County court on a charge of speeding.

The prosecutor was Russell R. Wren, Shanesville.

Vincent Grant, attorney, represented Hain, while Ralph C. Body and Edward D. Trexler, the latter an assistant district attorney, appeared for the prosecution.

Two Given 20 Years For Rape, Kidnaping

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26 (AP)—Two 21-year-old youths drew 20-year sentences in Federal prison today for kidnaping and raping a 20-year-old East Liverpool, Ohio, woman.

Both Francis L. McDole, Smith's Ferry, and Benjamin B. Williams, East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to the charges.

Judge Wallace S. Gourley also sentenced the pair to five years for auto theft, the terms to run concurrently.

They kidnaped the Ohio woman and her boy friend at gun-point two months ago, the FBI said, and drove them to Beaver county, Pa., where they attacked her and robbed her friend. Then they took her to Ohio and raped her again. Federal agents said. The FBI arrested them several weeks later.

Two Given 20 Years For Rape, Kidnaping

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26 (AP)—Two 21-year-old youths drew 20-year sentences in Federal prison today for kidnaping and raping a 20-year-old East Liverpool, Ohio, woman.

Both Francis L. McDole, Smith's Ferry, and Benjamin B. Williams, East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to the charges.

Judge Wallace S. Gourley also sentenced the pair to five years for auto theft, the terms to run concurrently.

They kidnaped the Ohio woman and her boy friend at gun-point two months ago, the FBI said, and drove them to Beaver county, Pa., where they attacked her and robbed her friend. Then they took her to Ohio and raped her again. Federal agents said. The FBI arrested them several weeks later.

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy—Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

This picture was taken in front of the old Richards school building at Walnut and Penn streets in 1918. The group includes the First and Second grades taught by the Misses Newlin and Schuyler.

next unknown, and William Yohn.

Third row, the second girl is a Miss Schlegel; fourth is Miss Gray; seventh, Evelyn Meyers, eighth, Kathryn Ludwick; ninth, Miss Lafferty; 11th, Miss Bell, and last, Janet Creswell. Fourth row, first girl, Mary Franks; fourth, Helen Stone; fifth, Miss Reed; seventh, Thelma Derr; eighth, Margaret Stapp; ninth, Mary McCaslin; tenth, Helen Armstrong.

School Days In Norco Schools

New Books Aiding Literature Classes

By LEE ASSEO

The Ninth grade English classes, under the direction of John DeVincentis, have now begun their study of literature. Both sections have received new books, "Good Times Through Literature" for this study. To accompany these books the pupils have also received new workbooks, "Thing-It-Through Book."

These workbooks contain a variety of exercises which require thought and effort on the part of the pupil. They test the pupils' ability to read and understand. This is done by a number of questions at the end of each short story.

There also are many exercises designed to improve the pupils' reading speed, reasoning powers and vocabulary. DeVincentis hopes these workbooks will improve his classes' standard of work.

11th Grade Pupils Study Greece, Make Comparison

By DAVID LAKE

The 11th grade history class is studying about Greece. The teacher, Miss Jesse Delp, had two Greek women visit the class. They told about Greece and showed to the class several articles that were made in Greece. The class then compared Greece with the United States.

In the Tenth grade history class, the pupils are studying about the Revolutionary War.

Tenth Grade Classes Are Making Study Of Short Stories

By BETTY ANN CLARK

The Tenth grade English classes are taught by Kenneth Miller. The academic-vocational section has been working with literature for the past three weeks. They have read three short stories, "The Most Dangerous Game," "The Antelope," "The Second Rater," and have analyzed the main characters in each.

The commercial and general section have completed a unit which has familiarized them with the library. Among other aspects of the library that they have discussed was the founder of the library classification system, Melvil Dewey.

The members of the classes are now learning how to express themselves by studying various types of paragraphs. They practice writing examples of each type.

Seventh Grade Class Names New Officers

By FAYE ARION

In the Seventh grade class of North Coventry High school the following class officers were elected: President, Gail Anderson; vice president, Veronica Cisarlik; secretary and treasurer, Corrine Schrack.

The history classes are studying the country of Egypt. They are studying the British Isles in geography. During their classes the pupils drew maps showing physical features and rivers. The seventh grade teacher is Miss Lane, who also is their homeroom teacher.

Arithmetic Classes Study Fundamentals

By LUCILLE SWAVELY

The Eighth grade arithmetic classes, under the supervision of C. J. Brey, have received new modern textbooks. The text pays careful attention to the fundamentals of the course.

The first weeks were devoted to reviewing the fundamentals so all pupils may have a good foundation to continue the year's work.

We stressed that pupils should learn to think and to be reasonably certain before they write solutions. We also emphasized the importance of neatness, legibility and orderliness, as well as accuracy.

Two Fifth Grade Classes Preparing Art Projects

By BARBARA BUCKWALTER

The two Fifth grades of North Coventry elementary school are working on unusual art projects. Mr. Langford's room is painting a mural on prehistoric animals. Dinosaurs of all types and sizes are displayed on the mural.

Mr. Wynn's room is planning a project to study rocks and crystals. They will have a table display of various rocks and crystals with names and labels attached. The pupils are studying the origin and sources of rocks. The class is painting a large mural backdrop for this display. The scene is of volcanoes and large green ferns.

Pottstown Area's Finest

Hope for the future lies in our schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of the Pottstown area's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

Notice the skyward gaze on the faces of these First graders at Lower Pottsgrove Consolidated school? The photographer made the birdie fly straight up to get them to look that way. It gives them that looking-into-the-future appearance.

Third row, Ronald Fieni, JoAnn Zandt, Kay Grebe, Lydia Oister and Shirley Ann Bell.

443 Are Included In Hill School X-Rays

A total of 443 persons were given chest X-rays yesterday at The Hill school under the sponsorship of the Montgomery County Tuberculosis and Public Health society and the Christmas Seal sale committee of Pottstown.

Included in the total, photographed from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., were pupils, faculty members, and all school employees, including all food handlers.

Leona Smith, director of the Pottstown Visiting Nurse association said that the work of the mobile X-ray unit is now finished until next Spring.

Civic Symphony Group Will Rehearse Tonight

Pottstown's civic symphony orchestra will rehearse two symphonies at the Moose auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight.

They are Haydn's symphony No. 2 and Beethoven's symphony No. 5. Kenneth Morse, the conductor, has invited all musicians in the Pottstown area to attend.

Officers Are Chosen By Mobile Homes Group

Fifty members of the association, all of whom own trailers, elected these officers:

Stanley Grube, vice president; Richard Shubert, secretary; Mrs. Fred Thomas, treasurer.

The association announced completion of a recreation room in Sanatoga Trailer park on Route 422. Meetings will be held the first Friday of every month.

HIGH SCHOOL TO ISSUE NEW REPORT CARDS

Revised System to Offer Aids for Parents Pupils

Parents of Pottstown Senior High school pupils will receive a completely revised report on their children when the first report of the new year is issued tomorrow afternoon.

The report card has been under consideration for several months and has been subject to the scrutiny of members of the faculty and the administrative staff. The prime purpose of the revision is to give the benefits of more information to both parents and pupils.

The old report card, in use for some 20 years or more, gave a simple statement of the marks earned without any effort to explain difficulties, deficiencies or means of improvement. The new card offers the record of the pupil's marks and at the same time gives the teacher an opportunity to explain means of improvement.

The new card which measures five by eight inches carries a message on the front cover from Dr. George A. McCormick and explains the philosophy of the school.

regarding the general idea of marking the pupils. The left inside cover indicates the curriculum being followed by the pupil and also the rank in the class gained by him at the end of the past school year.

WITH MORE and more industries asking for this information, as well as the importance attached to rank by most colleges and universities, it is considered advisable to inform both pupils and parents of the relative rank of the pupil concerned.

Below the information regarding curriculum, the subjects taken by the pupils are divided into some 14 major classifications. Space is provided after each classification to insert the name of the specific subject taken by the pupil.

The right inside page lists a number of recommendations of teachers for the improvement of the work of the pupils. Each of the suggestions has been written with the idea of aiding the pupil improve rather than condemning him for his shortcomings.

The last page of the card bears a complete statement of the manner in which pupils are classified in the school, a place for the parent to sign the card, and a place to indicate the need for an interview both by the parent and by the teacher.

New Store Opening Scheduled Tomorrow By Merritt Firm

The Merritt Lumber Yards incorporated will open its new store at 233 High street tomorrow, it was announced yesterday.

The store will open to the public at 9:30 a. m. A special preview by invitation only will be held in the store tonight for merchants, and other trade people, E. K. Lindemuth, manager, said yesterday.

The new store will include both offices in Pottstown for the big lumber company and display room where Pottstowners can see the latest in paint, kitchens, power tools, unpainted furniture, art, gifts and a "Do-It-Yourself" department.

The Merritt company was formed in 1870 in Williamsport. Now the company has offices and branch yards in Reading, Allentown and Pottstown.

The Pottstown branch was opened in 1949 when a modern planing mill was erected here. Now the company is one of the first 25 retail lumber and building material merchandisers in the county.

Price? Would You Believe It? You Can Own A Packard CLIPPER FOR $2629* delivered here

Your Packard dealer will show you the year's most newsworthy car ... the new Packard CLIPPER

From the time it was introduced, the new CLIPPER made news

It made news because of quality—real Packard quality that thousands of buyers instantly recognized as meaning more fine-car features for their dollars. Ask the man who owns one!

It made news because of modern contour styling that gives you a better view of the road—ahead, behind, and to each side.

It made news because of the sparkling, smooth-flowing stream of power from its famous Packard engine. Packard has a world reputation as a builder of fine engines. You've heard of Packard engines ever since you took your first car to your heart.

No power like this power

It made news because of power shifting. Packard-designed and Packard-built ULTRA-MATIC is generally conceded to be the smoothest, sweetest, safest, surest power shifter available today. And it is used on Packard-built cars exclusively. (Optional at extra cost.)

The new CLIPPER made news for many other reasons, too—not the least among them: its spontaneous public acceptance.

Don't let the big type about "best deal in town" fool you. A best buy is another matter, and the best directions we can give you for finding such a buy is to look up your Packard dealer.

Do that, and you're where the "best deal" is!

Do that, and you'll see for yourself how the new CLIPPER gives you more fine car features per dollar because Packard builds it.

Twilight Ceremony in Emmanuel Lutheran Church Unites Ann Carlene Dilliplane, William K. Neiman

Candlelight nuptials performed by the Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse in the Emmanuel Lutheran church united in marriage Ann Carlene Dilliplane and William K. Neiman. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dilliplane, 41 West Fifth street. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Neiman, 53 Chestnut street.

A musical recital before the ceremony by Mrs. William Hellyer, church organist, included "O Perfect Love," "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a strapless gown of pale pink nylon net over taffeta, topped with a taffeta bolero jacket. Iridescent highlights the ballerina length gown with its bouffant skirt. The short jacket had elbow length sleeves and a rolled collar.

Two bands of small pink velvet flowers held her shoulder length veil of pale pink tulle. She carried a white Bible with a very pale lavender orchid.

Her jewelry was a heart shaped rhinestone locket and earrings, a gift from the groom.

Honor attendant for the ceremony was Mrs. John F. Mace Jr., Pottstown RD 3. She chose a champagne colored lace over taffeta dress also in ballerina style. It was fashioned with a U-neckline, short sleeves, fitted bodice and a full skirt gathered at the waist.

Her headpiece was a band of yellow and bronze pompons and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of the same.

William A. Griffith, 31 Chestnut street, was the best man for the ceremony.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at 64 West Seventh street, home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Mace Sr.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. Mace, Mrs. Dilliplane and Mrs. Neiman.

The bride's mother wore a navy taffeta dress with matching accessories and a white pompon corsage. The groom's mother chose a navy crepe frock worn with pink and navy accessories and a white pompon corsage. Mrs. Mace wore a changeable gray two piece suit dress.

Following the reception the newly married couple left on their wedding trip. To begin their travels the bride changed to a three piece teal blue suit worn with the orchid from her Bible.

Mrs. Neiman is a former student at Pottstown High school. Mr. Neiman graduated from the school the past June and is working as a carpenter. They will be at home at 53 Chestnut street.

Duties of Parents Told at Meeting Of St. Peter's Club

"Duties of Christian Parents to Their Children" was the topic of the talk given by the Rev. John Naja after he offered the opening prayer at the monthly meeting of the Christian Ladies' and Mothers' club of St. Peter's Catholic church.

The meeting, held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, took place in the parish hall.

It was announced that the club will hold a Halloween dance Saturday in the parish hall—the public is invited to attend. Prizes are to be awarded to those in costume.

Dance committee will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of president, Mrs. Stanley Borowy, Center avenue. At that time final plans will be made. Arrangements will also be made for a Halloween party to be given for the children of the school and Christian mothers on Sunday at 4 p. m. in the church hall.

Pig-in-the-box was won by Mrs. Helen Tarynski; refreshments were served by the refreshment committee.

Next meeting will be held Nov. 24 at 7:30 p. m. in the church.

Marine, Ralph Kulp Jr., Honored at Party Given by Relatives in East Greenville

Women's Activities

Prizes Awarded to Judy Bernhart, Sally Ann Brauch, Margie Peck, Carol Ann Dunlap, Judy Scheffey at Brownie Masquerade Party

Five Brownies of Troop 11 won prizes for their costumes at the Halloween party in Emmanuel Lutheran church. Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cullum and Russell Cullum.

The prize for the funniest outfit went to Judy Bernhart, for the prettiest, Sally Ann Brauch, for the ugliest, Margie Peck, and for the most original, Carol Ann Dunlap and Judy Scheffey.

Mrs. Joseph Klink was in charge of the games.

Appropriate Halloween decorations were provided by the committee consisting of Margie Peck, Rosemary Hausman, Patricia Saylor and Phyllis Coveley.

Refreshments were served by Sandra Werner, Cheryl Keim, Sandra Gehris, Nancy Klink and Judy Bernhart.

Table decorations made by Nancy Klink consisted of little wax pumpkins fitted with candy and a center decoration of witches and ghosts. Milk bottles covered with crepe paper and cleverly trimmed formed the table centerpiece.

Present at the party were: Carol Bast, Judy Bickel, Judy Bernhart, Sally Ann Brauch, Susan Clemmens, Phyllis Coveley, Carol Ann Dunlap, Dorothy Ann Gephart, Edwina Gephart, Sandra Gehris.

Gaye Grass, Alison Hartman, Connie Hoffman, Rosemary Hausman, Carol Ann Hurter, Cheryl Keim, Nancy Klink, Suzanne Jordan, Sharon Mayer, Margie Peck, Betsy Rotz, Patricia Saylor, Judy Scheffey, Sandra Werner, Palma Seibert and Charlene Ellis.

Visitors included Diane Missler, Linda Grubb and Carol Stong. Mrs. George Bickel, Mrs. Douglas Scheffey and Mrs. Joseph Klink were the leaders who were present.

Pennants, Footballs Decorate Armory For Teenage Dance

Approximately 150 teenagers danced amid streamers, paper footballs and college pennants at the Pottstown Hospital Teen-Age auxiliary's Football Jamboree. Music for the armory affair was supplied by the Dave Miller quintet.

Prizes were awarded to several couples during the evening. Joan Royer and Bill Jones took the honors in the elimination dance.

Spot dance winners were: Donna Royer and George Horrocks, Barbie Feroe and John Van Rensselaer, Joan Russell and Rick Weaver.

Holding the lucky door prize tickets were: Kitty Wiand, Bill Schmeierer and Stanley Hoffman.

The dance decorating committee included: Barbara Goswellin, Shirley Eachus, Dale Lang, Elaine Riefnsnyder, Lorraine Jones, Claudette Jacobs, Kathy Horrocks, Joan Russell, Ruth Moyer, Naomi Eagle.

Diane Sandquist, Barbie Feroe, Joanne Dulas, Judy Goehnaur, Annette Klink, Kay McCarthy, Marjorie Hampton, Judy Glenney, Dawn Brownback, Ann Chaplin, Ann Gregory, Barbara Grove, Nancy Seltzer, Jonelle Tascione, Lorriane Bohner, Mary Welch, Virginia Veach, Regina Kofach, Doris Hunsberger, Peggy Grow and Marielle Jamison.

It is estimated that the United States dog population grew from about 20 million to about 22½ million between 1947 and 1953.

Two Parties Are Given for Sherry Baker To Honor Her Fifth Birthday Anniversary

A birthday is an exciting time, especially when you're young, but to Sherry Baker this year's anniversary proved more thrilling than ever.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baker, 316 Rowan avenue, Sherry celebrated her fifth birthday at two parties the past weekend, one for adults Saturday night, and a children's one, Sunday afternoon.

She was completely surprised Saturday when most of the guests appeared in masquerade costumes. Included in the group were: Mrs. James Gleason, Mrs. Jessie Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hollinger, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Williams.

Mrs. Ann Laber, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm DeWitt, Mr. and Mrs. John Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kerr, Mrs. Charles Fulmer, Mrs. Elsie Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Elrod, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bellini, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Weikel.

Mrs. Harold Bernhardt, Mrs. John O'Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Auman, Kay Auman, Mrs. Frances Leightcap.

Though Sunday's festivities honored Sherry, she wasn't the only one receiving gifts. Feature attraction of the party was a fishing pond where each child dropped a line to hook a present.

Helping Sherry to celebrate her birthday were: Donnie Elrod, Linda Elrod, Sandy Bellini, Betty Price, Betsy Shaner, Larry Mace, Anita and Lee Fulmer, David Weikel, Cindy Bernhardt, Debbie O'Neil, Sharon Frye, Patty Anne Leightcap and Skipper Quigley.

Hosterman Circle Plans to Attend Missionary Meet

Arrangements to attend the 58th Annual Convention of the Women's Missionary society Thursday, were made at the meeting of the Maebelle Hosterman circle, St. James Evangelical Lutheran church, Limerick.

Circle members will be present at the meetings during the day at the Lutheran church of the Transfiguration and at the Congress dinner at the Emmanuel Lutheran church.

Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. Harvey Reed, 878 North Warren street.

The evening's topic was presented by Mrs. Paul Breisch and Mrs. Kenneth Kirk had charge of devotions.

The circle and the Women's Missionary society at St. James church, will have charge of the regular church service, Nov. 15. It will be a thank offering service.

The next meeting of the circle will be Nov. 18 at the church parsonage, home of Mrs. Alton H. Wedde.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Committee Members Convene at Home of Mrs. Arthur Peroni

Members of the budget and finance committee of the Franklin PTA met at the home of their committee chairman, Mrs. Arthur Peroni, 822 North Evans street, to discuss plans for their coming projects.

Present at the session were Mrs. William Mower, co-chairman, Mrs. James Taxter, Mrs. George Shaner, Mrs. Robert Rohrbach and Mrs. Nels Dilks.

US Charges Torture Center Directed By Soviet on 'Germ War' Confessions

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—The United States declared today that Russians directed a Communist torture center where false confessions of germ warfare were wrung from US fliers in Korea—even after the armistice. The Russians entered a denial.

Dr. Charles W. Mayo, US delegate, presented the charge before the UN Political committee. Dr. Mayo said an interrogation center known as "Pak's Palace" near Pyongyang, North Korea, was staffed by Chinese and North Koreans but directed by Soviet personnel.

"Many of our fliers were interrogated there by Soviet personnel," the Minnesota surgeon said. He told of a Kansas flier

ALLIES REBUKE RED STAND ON TRUCE TALKS

North Koreans Insist Neutral Nations Be Admitted

PANMUNJOM, Tuesday, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Allies of the Korean war rebuked the Communists today for repeatedly insisting that neutral nations be invited to the Korean peace conference.

US Ambassador Arthur Dean, representing the 16 Allied nations that fought the Red three years in Korea, told the Communists at the second session of preliminary talks:

"If we invite the neutral nations, admirable though they may be, we may turn the political (peace) conference into an endless debating society. In the meantime our troops face each other across an uneasy armistice."

"The great and urgent task now confronting us," said North Korean Representative Ki Sok Bok, "is to speedily determine through negotiations the neutral nations concerned to participate in the political conference and thereafter to reach specific agreement on time, place and the procedural, the administrative and related questions as to arrangements."

News Woman Sued By Ingrid Bergman

ROME, Oct. 26 (AP)—Swedish film star Ingrid Bergman appeared in a Rome court today to tell the judge why she is suing a Swedish newspaper woman for 10 lire—about one cent.

Bigi Rybrant, Rome correspondent of the Stockholm Aftonbladet, defendant, told the judge her side of the story, too.

It all started the past December, when Ingrid complained that an interview she gave the Aftonbladet correspondent was published as a signed article written by herself. Miss Bergman told the court she wished to have it made clear that she did not write the article.

who refused to write a confession despite 1800 hours of questioning directed by Russians.

Dr. Mayo said US fliers were reduced to a level lower than that of animals, and that the tortures were designed to be more terrible than medieval methods;

"They are calculated to disintegrate the mind of an intelligent victim," he asserted, in order to make him destroy his own integrity and produce an elaborate fiction.

"If anything is surprising to me," he observed, "it is that so many of our soldiers—those who confessed and those who did not, although for months they were treated like animals or worse—somehow continued to act throughout like men."

DR. MAYO SAID the Communists accused 107 captured fliers of engaging in bacteriological warfare. Of these, 17 are listed as missing and 14 are known dead. He did not say how they died. He said 40 refused to sign anything, but 36 signed under duress.

Jacob A. Malik, Soviet delegate sitting in place of Chief Delegate Andrei V. Vishinsky, responded that the United States had forced airmen who confessed to germ warfare to repudiate their confessions under threat of prosecution.

He called Dr. Mayo's statement "a lie and slander which we repudiate."

He tossed in a resolution by which the assembly would call on all countries which have not done so to ratify the 1925 Geneva convention against chemical and germ warfare.

The United States has refused to ratify it, demanding more than paper promises to stop such practices.

Medical Men Hear Of 'Simple Method' For Finding Cancer

ATLANTA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Development of the first "simple" method for detecting stomach cancer—involving use of a "rotating brush" inserted down through the mouth to collect tissue cells from the stomach wall—was reported today.

Dr. J. Ernest Ayre of Miami, Fla., said the method was the first, other than X-ray, which could be done by any general practitioner—and he added that X-ray sometimes cannot distinguish between ulcer and cancer in the stomach.

He told the Southern Medical association (SMA) at its 47th annual meeting that the collection of cells requires only five minutes, yet appears to compare favorably in accuracy with previous stomach cell-collecting techniques which he described as more difficult and time-consuming.

One of them—involving use of an inflatable balloon to collect cells through abrasive action on the stomach wall—requires up to two hours, Dr. Ayre asserted. He reported jointly with Dr. B. G. Oren, also of Miami.

Dr. Ayre told a reporter that while final appraisal of the value of the technique will require studies of "thousands" of cases, trials so far "indicate definite promise and the possibility that the accuracy may eventually prove greater than previous techniques of this type."

'FINDS A COUNTRY' — Michael Patrick O'Brien at last puts foot on land as he goes ashore at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. O'Brien, a modern "man without a country," gained fame when he shuttled for ten months between British Hong Kong and Portuguese Macao, with neither country willing to take him because of passport confusion.

Later, he became an unwilling passenger aboard a French liner, with no country willing to accept him. Through a writ of habeas corpus, he finally landed in Brazil. The Dominican Republic has assured him of a haven.

Grim Searchers Probe River, Bridges For Missing 15-Year-Old School Girl

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 26 (AP)—Grim searchers probed every bridge and culvert, river and slough today for trace of missing 15-year-old Evelyn Hartley, fearful they would only prove the words of her sobbing mother:

"We know she isn't alive."

Evelyn, a pretty high school honor student, vanished Saturday night from the home of Viggo Rasmussen, where she was baby-sitting. Bloodstains were spattered around an open basement window on the lawn and on a basement window well of a neighbor's home 200 yards away in the sparsely settled new section of town.

Police followed every trail because no single one stood out.

Today 150 students and faculty members from La Crosse State college, where Evelyn's father is a biology professor, probed every bridge and culvert within a 50-mile radius of this Mississippi river town of 43,000 residents. Sheriff's deputies trekked along rivers and sloughs.

Three men have been questioned in the case but Police Chief George Long said all were cleared and released.

MRS. RICHARD HARTLEY, the girl's mother, appeared composed today when she visited the home of Rasmussen, also a teacher at La Crosse State. But when she viewed the bloodstains she broke down completely. Her body shook with sobs as she said, "we know she isn't alive."

Evelyn's father went to the Rasmussen home Saturday night after his daughter failed to telephone home as she usually did when out baby-sitting, and his calls to the Rasmussen home were not answered. Peering through a front window of the house, he saw a

'God Help Livestock' Is Cattle Growers' Answer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson today at least temporarily rejected a plea by hard-hit cattle growers for immediate and direct Government price supports for the livestock industry.

Benson, under fire from several directions over his farm policies, told the disappointed cattlemen he has an "open mind" toward any feasible program to ease their distress.

But he strongly indicated that he is inclined to favor some other method than direct supports.

AFTER HEARING Benson, the delegation of 350 cattle growers from 30 states promptly held a mass meeting and voted unanimously to press for Federal price supports for cattle at a minimum of 90 percent of parity.

Parity is a formula, defined by law, designed to give farmers a fair price for their products in relation to the prices of things they buy. It now applies to such basic crops as wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts—but not cattle.

The cattlemen also called for a sweeping investigation of the spread between the price they get for their livestock and the price the consumer pays at the meat market.

Virginia State Sen. Harry C. Stuart, Elk Garden, Va., told the delegations:

The cattlemen's chief complaint was that they are caught in cost-price squeeze—with the Government supporting the price of feed they need to fatten their cattle for market and the price of livestock falling from its Korean war boom level.

La Rosa Reports Hopes of Marrying Dorothy McGuire But Says He Is Faced With Legal and Religious Problems

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Julius La Rosa reported today he hopes to marry attractive Dorothy McGuire but said there were religious and legal problems to be worked out.

La Rosa, fired from the Arthur Godfrey radio-television show a week ago today, is a Roman Catholic. Miss McGuire, 22, is not a Catholic and still is married to a serviceman, Sgt. John Brown, from whom she has been living apart. Her mother, Mrs. Asa McGuire of Miamisburg, Ohio, is a minister.

The 23-year-old singer, hired by Godfrey two years ago upon his discharge from the Navy, said he had been conferring with a priest on his problem. He declined to say whether he would wed without approval of his church.

Showing signs of extreme nervousness as he sat in the apartment of Ed Sullivan, on whose Toast of the Town he made his first post-Godfrey TV appearance last night, La Rosa said Miss McGuire was the only girl he had ever wanted to marry.

HE DISCLOSED, during an interview, that he had seen her this

Dorothy's Parents Call Report 'Lies'

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 26 (AP)—Dorothy McGuire's parents tonight branded as "just lies" reports the girl singer would marry crooner Julius La Rosa and added they are "sure she is just as aggravated in New York as we are here."

La Rosa, who lit out on his own after being fired from the Arthur Godfrey radio and television shows, said earlier today he hopes to marry Dorothy, one of the McGuire sisters trio.

Asa B. McGuire of nearby Miamisburg said his daughter is "happily married" to Sgt. John Brown, now in Korea.

He quoted his wife, the Rev. Lillie McGuire, as saying talk of the reported romance is "all a mistake."

McGuire called the whole thing "just publicity—just lies."

morning and later went to another room to answer a telephone call from here. Miss McGuire is one of the three McGuire sisters on the Godfrey programs.

La Rosa said he was deeply concerned over "hurting other people."

"If it means hurting other people I'm going to quit this business—I mean it," he said, as associates sought to calm him.

He expressed fears that involvement of his romance with Miss McGuire in the furor over his firing from the Godfrey show had meant embarrassment to her parents and his. With a touch of bitterness he said he could not understand the involvement of his personal life in the situation.

Sullivan advised him that one of the prices of fame was having the public interested in one's personal life.

Newsman who sought to reach Miss McGuire for comment were barred from the CBS studios where the Arthur Godfrey morning program originates.

Godfrey made oblique reference to the case when he was applauded during the show by the studio audience, remarking: "Oh, I've still got a few friends."

"I seemed to have been singularly devoid of them in the past week," he declared.

La Rosa had dinner with Miss McGuire and several of his business associates last night following the Sullivan telecast on which he received loud applause from the studio audience.

He related that upon return to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore La Rosa, in nearby Mount Vernon, N. Y., early this morning he found a stack of letters and telegrams awaiting him. He said he opened about 75 and only three were critical of his role in the break with Godfrey, the others all wishing him success.

Expert Pooh-Poohs Black Widow Danger

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Black widow spiders have jumped back into the news again.

Long Island housewives have complained the poisonous little creatures are creeping everywhere and should be destroyed.

Christian T. Williamson, superintendent of mosquito control up that way, agreed to spray. But he pooh-poohed their alarm.

Why, Williamson said, when he was a kid he used to roll in black widows and never once was bitten.

It was this revelation of Williamson's boyhood sport—rolling in black widows—that brought a call to Dr. Edward A. Chapin, curator of insects at the Smithsonian institution.

Could a person really rool in black widows and not get hurt?

Anna Mae Gallo, Former Pottstonian, Is Wed To Joseph Paettie Jr. in Merwood Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH R. PAETTIE JR.

Anna Mae Gallo, daughter of Mrs. Angelo Adam Gallo and the late Dr. Gallo, became the bride of Joseph Robert Paettie Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Paettie, Ardmore, at a double ring ceremony in St. Denis Church, Merwood. The Rev. James S. Reilly officiated.

Former residents of 62 North Hanover street, the Gallos now reside at 47 North Hillcrest road, Springfield.

Given in marriage by her brother, Angelo A. Gallo Jr., Chester, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace, fashioned with a high neckline, long sleeves tapered at the wrists, a satin underskirt and a full length train.

Her finger-tip veil was held with a crown of chantilly lace trimmed with shell pearls, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white chrysanthemums and pompons. She also wore a shell pearl necklace.

Maid of honor for the ceremony was Eileen Adams, Bala Cynwyd, a cousin of the bride. She wore a gown of coral cherry, fashioned with a velvet bodice, tulle skirt and velvet jacket, with matching headpiece. Her bouquet was of bronze chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Angelo A. Gallo Jr., Chester, sister-in-law of the bride; Joanne Graeber, Springfield, a cousin of the bride, and Marie Salerno Sharon Hill.

They wore gowns of Arabian peacock blue in the same style as the maid of honor's, with

Donald T. Paettie, Stonehurst, served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Patrick Langon, Beverly Hills; Joseph Langon, Beverly Hills, and Patrick Burke, Washington, D. C., all cousins of the groom.

Mrs. Gallo, mother of the bride, wore a full length gown of silver aqua taffeta with pink trim and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Paettie, the bridegroom's mother, wore a full length gown of ice blue lace with an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Media inn for 150 guests, after which the newlyweds left on their honeymoon to Miami Beach, Fla.

The bride was graduated from Springfield High school in the class of 1950 and from Linden Hall, Lititz, Pa.

Mr. Paettie is a graduate of St.

Thomas More High school, class of 1942. During World War II he served for three years in the US Navy as a radio technician. He is now employed by the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Paettie are making their home at 61 Fairview avenue, Clifton Heights.

Pottstown's Prides

This attractive white house is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rohrbach and their two sons. The house is located at 801 Hale street.

There are four rooms located on the first floor: The living room, 13 by 15 feet, two bedrooms and the kitchen. The two bedrooms are on the far side of the house. There's a full basement under the house and the second floor, unfinished, is being turned into a bedroom now by the Rohrbachs.

Those are the two boys tending a football out front. Steven, 6, is at left and Ronald, 8, is about to catch it. The Rohrbachs have planted two maples and two ash trees in the front of their home.

The home is trimmed in gray, newly painted this fall. Rohrbach works for Firestone Tire and Rubber company and the family has had the home more than four years.

Business Tour Set For 62 Local Pupils

Sixty-two Pottstown High school seniors will invade Philadelphia today on a "business" trip.

They will tour the Sun Oil company office buildings in the city center, where they will observe modern, large-scale office practice.

All pupils on the trip will be seniors in the local High School's commercial department.

Bertram P. Scanlin, one of the teachers who will go along on the trip, said that it would be made in two chartered buses.

"The pupils will tour the oil company offices in the morning," he explained. "In the afternoon, they will see a play at the Academy of Music."

The buses will leave from the Chestnut street side of the Senior High school at 8:30 a. m., Scanlin said.

Other teachers making the trip will be Alma I. Klink and J. Robert VonDrach. Eleanor Cornmesser, librarian, will also go along.

name was Rutter, but they did not know anyone by the name of John C.

The clothier then called the Citizens National bank and learned that a Rutter did not have an account there.

He called Desk Sgt. Russel B. Hummel at 4:57 p. m.

Hummel relayed the message to Sgt. Lawler and Myers riding in the patrol car, and Lawler, on a hunch, drove to the Reading station.

There he asked Paul Weidensaul, ticket agent, whether a man who filled Rutter's description had purchased a ticket.

Weidensaul had seen no one who looked like Rutter.

Lawler and Myers drove away from the station and minutes later got a radio message to return. When they arrived Weidensaul ran outside and pointed to the suspect.

When police grabbed the man, he was reading a magazine.

He had stopped for a shoe shine on his way to the station.

He told police he returned from Detroit two weeks ago when he learned his mother was in ill health at her home in Orwigsburg.

He said he came to Pottstown Sunday night and explained he was going to Reading to visit a cousin, before seeing his mother.

Among his possessions were a golf glove and a wooden tee. He said he was a pro golfer and went over a long string of the Nation's best professionals. His bad nerves were blamed for quitting the game.

Rutter said he was graduated from Orwigsburg High school in 1942.

Police confiscated $18 of the $20 and his train ticket to Reading.

Obituaries

The INFANT SON of Stanley and Grace (Shaner) LIGHTCAP, 124 SUNRISE LANE, was dead at birth Sunday night in Pottstown hospital.

He was one of twins born Sunday to the Lightcaps. The other twin survives.

Other survivors include his parents, two sisters, Grace Elizabeth and Ruth Evelyn, at home; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lightcap, 316 North Evans street; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kline, Royersford.

Graveside services will be at 2 o'clock this afternoon in Edgewood cemetery, with the Rev. George A. Lineker, rector of Christ Episcopal church, officiating. Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Houck Funeral home, 112 North Washington street.

MARGARET AUGUSTA (MERKERT) MEREDITH, 85, widow of John G. Meredith, died at 9:45 p. m. yesterday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ackerman, 12 EAST VINE STREET, STOWE, where she had lived for the past 33 years.

She had been ill for the past seven years and had been bedfast for the past five years.

Born in Ashland, Schuylkill county, the daughter of the late Lorenz and Emaline (May) Merkert, she came to Pottstown in 1902 and had lived here ever since.

She is survived by two daughters, Adeline, with whom she made her home, and Grace, widow of Henry Ancona, 11 North Hanover street; a sister, Gertrude Merkert, Royersford; six grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

She was a member of Christ Episcopal church.

Funeral services will be held from the Houck funeral home, 112 North Washington street, Thursday at 3 p. m. The Rev. George A. Lineker, rector of Christ Episcopal church, will officiate. Interment will be in West End cemetery.

Funeral services for MRS. S. ELIZABETH (THOMAS) CROSBY, widow of William E. Crosby, were held yesterday afternoon from her late home in BYERS, Chester county. The Rev. Charles G. Link, pastor of St. Matthews Reformed church, Ludwig's corner, officiated. Interment was in St. Matthews cemetery.

Pall bearers were Richard W. Crosby, Joel F. Dutton, Everett Ferguson, Ellsworth C. Maxton, C. Ray Woodland and David E. Woods.

Jacobs' Union Head Home From Parley

Mark L. Brown, president of Jacobs Local 3802, USW-CIO, and delegate to the CIO International wage policy committee meeting in New York city this past week, has returned to the local union.

Brown, who represented Pottstown-Norristown area unions at the three-day conference, was one of five committee members from District 7.

He was elected to the post, this past Spring.

All of the 170 committee members attended the conference Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Members sounded ideas at the meeting, which are expected to be written out in the form of recommendations to be referred to the union's executive board.

WEATHER —

word on Saturday's opening day by late tomorrow night.

Deputy Game Protector Richard E. Blair, of Pottstown, outlined the situation.

Blair said last night that the commission's field directors would send their reports to the capital where they would be studied before a decision would be made.

The final decision rests with the Governor, who banks heavily on information provided by the Game commission and the Department of Forests and Waters.

A hopeful note was provided by Blair.

"Some sections are still very dry, the Sanatoga area, for example, but others are in pretty good shape. The Red Hill area is pretty wet."

CURFEW —

by council and referred to police committee for study.

Some residents wanted to know why the curfew wasn't being enforced. They wanted to know if it remains on the books.

The curfew provides it is unlawful for any person under 16 years to remain on borough streets and public places after 9 o'clock each night and before 5:30 o'clock each morning, from Oct. 1 to March 31 of each year.

The law has not been enforced for a number of years.

Officers Re-elected As Last Man Club Holds 1953 Session

The first man in the Last Man club to drink a special bottle of imported champagne will be the last man in the club.

Members of this unique club, which was formed in 1938 held their annual meeting last night, and occupying the place of honor on the table was an aging bottle of French champagne.

When each of the 31 original members of the club joined, he pledged to drink the champagne if he became the last living member of the club.

Five of the members since have died and six moved away, but there was a perfect attendance record for the remaining 20 last night at the Boyertown American Legion home. The club is composed of World War I veterans and is affiliated with the American Legion.

CAPT. Joseph L. O'Connor, Spring City, recently repatriated prisoner-of-war in Korea, was the guest speaker and told members about his experiences as a captive of the Communists.

O'Connor spoke following a dinner at the home. The members paid tribute to the five deceased ones of the group and then re-elected the present officers for another year. They are:

J. Henry Hausmann, president; Herbert G. Jones, treasurer; Walter S. Hutt, secretary.

Hutt noted last night that the Pottstown club was formed by members of the borough's George A. Amole American Legion Post 47. For seven years, membership in this group remained open, but in 1945, with 31 members, the charter rolls were closed.

Once a year, the club meets and members can reminisce about the old days before returning to the regular routine of their daily existence.

Ivan B. Leaman, chairman of arrangements for last night's meeting, is a typical member of the club.

He served in the medical corps in France during the first big war and now is manager of one of the local food stores.

Also assisting in preparations for this year's "bottle-watching," were Joseph H. Burdan and Lloyd Yorgey.

Next year it will be Ralph Guest, James I. Gill and Elmer B. Haas who'll make the preparations.

Hallowe'en Paraders To Cavori Tomorrow

The 1953 Hallowe'en parade, sponsored by the Pottstown Hallowe'en committee in conjunction with the Pottstown Recreation commission, will be held tomorrow night.

The parade will begin forming at 6 o'clock on High street between Washington and Warren streets. The judging will be from 6:30 until 7 o'clock when the parade officially starts marching up High street.

The parade will disband at the Elks home where all participants will be served refreshments. The parade is for all boys and girls, in and around Pottstown, who are of Junior High school age and under.

The Pottstown Junior High school color guard and band, the Norco band, the West Pottsgrove band, and the Pottstown Senior High school band and drill team will participate in this fifth annual Hallowe'en parade.

THOSE SERVING on the Hallowe'en committee are: Grant Rohrbach, Rotary; Charles Fegely, Kiwanis; Carl Rutter, Optimist; Bill Foscoch, Lions; Kathryn Yerger, Soroptimist; Robert Raugh Jr., ABC; Frank Anhalt, Jaycees; John Wirag, Elks; Chief James Laughhead, police; and Chief Richard Lindauer, Fire department.

Rain date for the parade is Thursday, same time and same place.

New Bus Schedules Working Nicely, Upper Pottsgrove School Board Told

School bus schedules, reports (must be secured from the government in charge of roads on which stops are made, township county or State.

Ferdinand added that new bus schedules are "working out nicely" and all elementary children are home from classes by 3:30 p. m. daily.

The board authorized the purchase of two book cases and reported the new pump at the school is "working well."

The next meeting will be held on Nov. 30 at 8 p. m. in the school. Present at last night's session were John W. Fadler Sr., William E. Fetterolf, T. Ray Henry, Robert John and Harry W. Overholzer.

DRIVER INJURED NEAR MONOCACY

Ex-Deputy Sheriff Hurt When Car Rambles Out of Control

A former Berks county deputy sheriff was in "fair" condition in Memorial hospital last night after suffering severe chest and body injuries when his car rambled out of control along Route 83, near Monocacy.

Harry J. Hemmig, 66, Douglassville RD 1, who served as a deputy sheriff several years ago, was driving toward Birdsboro on Route 83, just east of Monocacy when the accident took place.

Reading State Trooper David C. Martin reported faultily steering as the probable cause of the accident.

He said Hemmig explained the car suddenly would not answer the steering wheel. It swerved first to the left and then to right.

The car zig-zagged back to the left and climbed a high embankment and turned over.

Martin said the 1946 sedan was demolished. The accident took place in front of the property of Morris DeTurk.

Hemmig, former special police officer in Union township, suffered cuts and bruises of the body and will be X-rayed this morning for possible chest injuries.

He is an employee of the State Highway department and works out of the Temple office.

He serves as special police officer at Freese's sale, Freese's Heights and the Gulbertsville auction grounds.

Hemmig was rushed to the hospital by the Birdsboro Community ambulance.

North End Fire Company Hears Talk on Methods

Forty members of the North End Fire company last night heard a talk on fire fighting methods and equipment at a meeting in the Empire Hook and Ladder company building.

The speaker was Joseph F. Meskill, battalion chief of the fire training school in Philadelphia. President John B. Hartenstein presided at the meeting.

With Ed Taggart SPIRIT GOES LONG WAY—
TROJANS PROVE IT

If spirit were as constant as ability, Pottstown High could win the Ches-Mont league title.

The Trojans have arrived and let's hope they believe it themselves. If they lose another game this season it will be because their mental attitude fails to offer the stimulus that puts their talent to the test.

After watching Pottstown High buffet West Chester, 7-0, the past Saturday, all the second guessers are replaying the season, and at this point they feel the Trojans should have lost only to Norristown. We don't advocate second guessing, but it's a tribute to the Trojans' ability for their followers to figure two of the losses should have been victories - namely Upper Merion and Phoenixville.

But since the psychological factor is so important, possibly that loss to Phoenixville will do more to keep the Trojans on their toes than anything else. There are no setups in the league. Even the oft-beaten Raiders of Coatesville are capable of ruining the title aspirations of any their next four opponents.

The general impression around the league is that West Chester is the best equipped to win the title. They have size, hard-running backs and experience. But the Warriors' pennant chances were severely jostled Saturday. Why? Because there was a special something tingling in the Trojans' collective backbone, heart, head or any place in the anatomy you choose, but they had it. Now if the Trojans can only remember where they put the prescription, they can take it back an get it renewed for the game at Berwyn next Friday night.

JUST WHO was the leader in the spirit campaign is hard to tell. We didn't hear any sentimental rumors about "Winning this one for Jack." But maybe the loss of co-captain Jack Babel offered one of the ingredients that went into the inspirational concoction mixed up by the Trojans.

The other co-captains, Joe Rettew and Flip Smoyer certainly played like leaders on the field. Smoyer, operating at defensive end kept his flank well guarded and none of the Warrior backs made much headway in his direction.

Rettew was definitely a standout on defense. His trip tackles as Charlie Lawson sliced into line held the feared WC runner to short yardage all afternoon. Like most of his mates, Rettew was tackling low and hard.

Another Trojan welter weight who stopped the light-heavyweight runners cold was end Jim Porter. This 145-pound Senior was a rock at his position and time and again he was conspicuous as he dropped Steele or Anderson as they tried to cut back inside right end.

There isn't space to name every PHS player who offered his best defensive effort of the year. But an untold amount of credit must go to Tony Giangiacomo and Al Bodulus. Since these two entered the lineup as linebackers against Phoenixville, the Trojan defense has improved immeasurably.

GIANGIACOMO is a rough and ready customer that delights in contact. Bodulus has been operating as center man behind the line which gives him a good chance to roam in either direction. His speed makes him most valuable in this spot, as he has displayed by dragging down several runners from the rear on end sweeps.

The pass defense of Bodulus and Howie Bedell has improved so much since last year that the Trojans now have the makings of a fine shield against enemy aerials. Bodulus pulled back to swipe a pass in the first half and Bedell snatched another right out of an intended receiver's hands in the second half.

The old pro, Red Kerr, played his usual steady game. Last year it wasn't until Kerr recovered from shoulder injuries and returned to the lineup that Pottstown could stop the opposition's passes. This season Kerr has excelled on pass defense and Saturday he was at his best. His two over-the-shoulder catches were as nice as any Red ever made in left field. The general consensus in the press box was that if the Trojans had more Red Kerr's they would be unbeatable. Against West Chester they were loaded with Red Kerr's.

Turning to the offensive side of the game, Pottstown was just about as good as at any time this campaign. The team has scored more points and rolled up greater yardage but all factors considering it was still probably their best attack.

West Chester presented a big rugged line but the smaller Trojans outgained them at every turn. That gave Bedell a chance to step - and step he did.

HOWIE HOPPED and twisted and dodged and drove like at no time since last year against Downingtown. In the second half he became a dangerous weapon. At the end of each of his runs there would be a West Chester player lying on his back.

Bedell has held up remarkably well for the beating he has taken. Getting smacked down on those end runs about 15 times each game is no picnic. He is a sitting duck for charging linebackers. But on Saturday it was more appropriate to feel sorry for the linebackers the way he was hitting. He also picked his way through the secondary much better than usual, side-stepping and dancing like a Charlie Justice.

The ball handling of Josh Sova is developing rapidly. And his punting was a big offensive weapon for the Trojans. He had punts of 53 and 50 yards from the line of scrimmage, plus two others of 38 and 37. The 37 yard boot went out of bounds on the WC seven.

After his many years of coaching, Heeb Meyers has seen "high" teams and "low" teams in action many times. If only there was some way of keeping the boys "up" for every game, there would be many less sleepless nights in the coaching ranks.

ONE FACTOR that should motivate that "up" reaction among the regulars is that so many of the reserves are ready to take over at a minute's notice. Tom Lindauer played a capable game at center. Joe Lipko was a terror on defense after MacShirey was hurt. Don Keifrider makes yardage everytime he gets a chance at the fullback job. Larry Jones, Jim Leveille and Carl Burns carried out their assignments in first string fashion.

Keep those spirit pills handy Trojans and you'll go a long way.

Joe Ondo Snaps Monopoly

The men finally made it. Joseph Ondo, 363 Cherry street, picked eight out of ten to win the past week's Mercury Football Fore-casters contest. His choice of Penn over Navy entitles him to wander into the Mercury office and pick up his four ducats to the Turkey day game between Pottstown and Downingtown at a date to be announced later.

But the women were not to be denied.

Mrs. Mary A. Laubmeier of Stowe, picked seven right and named the point difference in two games, Pitt-Northeastern and Ohio State-Wisconsin, to break a deadlock with three others who also had seven right. The others who came close but didn't quite make it were Mildred Seybold, A. Richard Seybold and Mrs. Albert M. Dredge.

Mrs. Laubmeier can also pick up her two tickets to the Downingtown game at the Mercury office.

The actual scores of the past Saturday's games were:

FOOTBALL FESTIVAL—Far fields was no place for an anti-football fan yesterday as Hill school form teams engaged four visiting squads. Above is some loose-ball action as players of the Hill Sixths Seconds and Boyertown Junior High jayvees chase a fumble. Boyertown won this game, 12-0. At left, Nick Knerr gets off a nice run to help Hill Thirlds defeat Coatesville High JV's, 32-19. At right, Warren Clucker is about to be brought down after a substantial gain in the Hill Fourths 39-0 win over Coatesville Jayvees. In the only game not pictured, Boyertown Junior High varsity beat the Hill Sixths, 12-0.

Hill School Form Grid Teams Split With Boyertown, Coatesville Squads

In four football games played at Far fields yesterday, Hill School won two and dropped two, but the two wins overshadowed the losses, as the blue totaled 71 points against its opponents total of 43.

The Hill School Fourths blanked the Coatesville Thirlds, 39-0 and the Hill Thirlds took their game with the Coatesville High school jayvees, 32-19. On the losing side of the ledger, the Blues Sixths were blanked by Boyertown Junior High, 12-0, and the Boyertown Junior High JV's took the Hill Sixth Seconds by the same margin.

The Hill Fourths started rolling it up early in their clash with the Coatesville Thirlds. Gray Perkins sparked a first period drive that carried from the Hill 40 to the Coatesville 25. A play later Kurt Wieneke shot off tackle and went the distance. Perkins kicked his first of three conversions to make it 7-0.

Later in the same period, Ted Price recovered a Coatesville fumble on the visitors' 20 and two plays later Jerry Orr carried over from the 15. Perkins kick was no good. John Gibbs tallied for Hill in the second period with a 25 yard off tackle thrust and Perkins made the extra point. A pass from Sam Hinkle to John Fowler in the end zone and the conversion by Perkins made it 27-0 at the half.

HILL'S LAST TWO scores came in the third and fourth frames. Don Ray passed to Jess Freeman for 10 yards and a TD, and after Fred Day carried from the Coatesville 40 to the three, Warren Clucker sneaked over for the last score.

The Hill Thirlds broke a tie in the second half of their game with the Coatesville High school JV's, then went on to roll up 19 points in the second half to win going away, 32-19.

Bob Neff, Hill right end from Pottstown, scored three of the Blues TD's, the first on a pass from Nick Knerr in the first quarter. Steve Feinstein's kick was good. Coatesville scored in the opening frame when Joe Mose went over on a sneak from the Hill one.

Coatesville took the lead when Ned Frear's punt was blocked and recovered in the end zone. A few plays later, Knerr traveled 40 yards on an option play to tie the game.

Coatesville finished its scoring for the day when Pete Townsley went over on a pichout from Moses from the Hill four. A fumble by Knerr on the Hill 30 set up the marker.

Knerr's pass to Neff was taken on the four and Neff went over to score. Feinstein's try was no good, but Hill started to run it up when Knerr passed to Neff again from about 20 yards out for the second Hill tally in the third quarter. Again Feinstein's kick was no good.

In the final stanza, Feinstein carried from the visitors 40 to the five then went over on an end run. His try for the extra point was no good.

Trojan JV's Beat Warriors, 14-7, on Last-Second Scores

Touchdowns in the final seconds of each half gave the Pottstown High junior varsity football team a 14-7 victory at West Chester yesterday afternoon.

It was the fourth win in five games for Coach Bill McCabe's jayvees, and their third in a row.

After spotting the Warrior juniors seven points early in the first period, the Trojans snapped back to tie the count on a 25-yard run by Al Bodulus on the last play of the second quarter. Dick Groff kicked the extra point and the deadlock continued until the watch showed only 43 seconds remaining in the game.

The Trojans were marching and from the West Chester 15, Jim Gibbons flipped a pass into the end zone to end John Osuch. Groff again booted the point and the young Trojans copped another win.

Pottstown opened the game by kicking off. The Warriors ran the ball back to their own 25 and then started to move. Several short passes over the middle kept the drive rolling. It took the Warriors four downs from the Pottstown eight to push the ball across as their fullback barged over from the one. The point was added and the lead looked good for many minutes.

THE TROJANS finally got rolling in the second quarter with Don Keifrider and Joe Lipko lugging the ball. With time running out, the Trojans were on the WC 25 when Gibbons called the jayvees per scoring play. It was a wide double reverse to Bodulus and the slender Junior was off and running just before the whistle sounded ending the half.

A holding penalty against Pottstown on the West Chester five prevented the visitors from breaking the tie in the third quarter.

They eventually lost the ball on downs on the seven and had to wait until near the end of the game for their next chance.

End Coco Kerlin, a slashing defender made the break for Pottstown by hitting the West Chester passer so hard that he fumbled and the Trojans recovered near midfield.

Keifrider raced for a pair of first downs to the West Chester 30, and Bodulus and Lipko carried down to the 15 with 46 seconds remaining in the game.

GIBBONS had directed his attack entirely on the ground all afternoon, but he decided it was time to go to the air. He faded back and located Osuch open in the end zone and fired a straight and true pass. Groff, who gets plenty of chance to kick extra points for the high-scoring jayvees, again split the uprights.

West Chester had time to run two plays after the kickoff.

Turpin Headed for BBC Carpet

LONDON, Oct. 26 — British middleweight champion Randy Turpin may be subject to disciplinary action by the stewards of the British Board of Boxing Control as the result of his poor showing against Bobo Olson in their world title fight in New York last week.

Turpin's training — or lack of it — was sharply criticized by British boxing writers who saw him in the United States. Jack Solomons, the London promoter who controls a major share of the fight business in Britain also was critical. Solomons said yesterday after arriving from New York that Turpin deserved to be brought before the stewards.

WALHAM TOLD the press he hoped to finish his report in a day or two for presentation to BBC President J. Onslow Fane.

"It will be for Mr. Fane to decide whether the report should go before the next meeting of the stewards in about three weeks time for any possible disciplinary action," Waltham said.

In preparation for the biggest middleweight fight since Turpin lost the world title to Sugar Ray Robinson in New York in 1951, Turpin sparred infrequently, spent entire days lounging around his Grossinger, N. Y., camp, complained about homesickness and "things on my mind" and threatened to abandon the fight if anyone bothered him.

Waltham said he would "prominently feature the unorthodox training" in his report.

"Speaking personally," he continued, "I consider his preparation was inadequate for a fight of such great importance. He was like a man going in for a mile race and being tired out after 100 yards.

"PRESTONE" ANTI-FREEZE GIVES YOUR CAR FULL 4-WAY PROTECTION

- AGAINST freeze-ups in cold weather, boil-offs on warm days. One shot lasts all winter.
- AGAINST rubber decay, radiator clogging, and pin-hole leaks developing from rust spots.
- AGAINST corrosion of the cooling-system metals.
- AGAINST foaming off and resulting loss of solution.

MECHANICALLY-MINDED CAR OWNERS...SERVICE MEN...ENGINEERS...

Save Trouble, Money . . . and Your Cars with these Simple Facts from the World's Largest Anti-freeze Laboratory

Most all-winter anti-freezes are made of glycols . . . high boiling-point, low freezing-point compounds. These properties prevent boil-off when the weather turns warm; prevent freeze-ups when the temperature drops. Thus, they do what alcohol can never do. However, to make an ideal anti-freeze suitable for modern engines, glycols need 3 special additives:

- A specially compounded oil inhibitor: (a) to form a microscopic-thin film over small rust spots which otherwise might break through and result in pin-hole leaks; (b) to lay any loose rust that may be in the cooling system, and keep it from circulating and thus plugging up the radiator; and (c) to plate out on rubber hose and seals, and thus to prevent the rotting of these parts by water penetration.
- "PRESTONE" anti-freeze has this special oil inhibitor. It is not pretty in a test tube or a bottle, but it does a marvelous job of making rust stay put and of preventing pin-hole leaks. No anti-freeze without such an inhibitor can do these jobs.

- A chemical inhibitor to prevent corrosion of the cooling-system metals. Seven metals are commonly used in automobile cooling systems—cast iron, steel, copper, aluminum, brass, lead and tin (solder).

"PRESTONE" anti-freeze has this chemical inhibitor. It gives more protection over the full range of cooling-system metals than any other anti-freeze on the market.

- An anti-foam to prevent the solution from foaming during fast driving, and thus spilling out through the over-flow pipe.

"PRESTONE" anti-freeze contains an anti-foam which is unsurpassed by that of any other anti-freeze.

The additives in "PRESTONE" anti-freeze are the result of thousands of tests by leading cooling-system engineers and research scientists in the laboratories of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation at Tonawanda, N. Y., world-headers for anti-freeze facts and cooling-system data. These laboratories are the authority for our statement that no other anti-freeze gives the same complete protection as "PRESTONE" anti-freeze. There are no substitutes of equal value. There is nothing else like it.

Song of Solomon 8:6.

Who's Job to Cleanse Stalls?

ETERNAL vigilance not only is the price of liberty, but also is necessary to keep clean Pottstown's bookstalls!

Pledges by Pottstown magazine sellers that they'd keep the smut magazines and the girly-girly booklets off their shelves didn't last too long.

Pottstown's clergy exacted the pledges the past January.

Already the smutty books are back on the stands; the same filthy, suggestive magazines are being sold to anybody who has the price—as was shown when a 16-year-old boy went down town and picked up some filth that soiled his hands.

These filth books aren't being sold at all Pottstown stores that handle magazines. Drug stores have clean hands. But some center-of-town emporiums are featuring them, selling them to all comers!

Just 10 months ago the Rev. Donald T. Floyd, pastor of Pottstown Trinity E. C. church, stood up in a borough council meeting and waved a magazine at the solons. He asked that the bookstalls be cleansed of the filth.

Nothing but silence greeted him. But the Pottstown Ministerial association solved the problem by getting distributors to promise they wouldn't put the suggestive magazines on the stands.

That pledge has been broken.

Now who's move?

Is it up to the clergy to remind the book-sellers that they've deviated from the straight and narrow?

Is it a police duty to keep that sort of filth away from teen-agers?

Someone in authority should decide soon, because children of high school age are getting vicarious "thrills" out of passing around the suggestive material.

Trees Just a Nuisance?

TREES are a nuisance, as anyone who has been raking leaves this Fall can tell you. Not only do they spread their discarded foliage all over the lawn—they are forever dropping twigs. They require fertilizing, watering, pruning and often major surgery.

Yet there are things to be said in behalf of trees. The leafage, even if a bother when scattered on the grass, is attractive raiment from the first pale green, of Spring to the last flame of Autumn.

And when the branches finally are bare they present a new kind of beauty.

Beyond these outer charms, however, are deeper qualities that gradually impress themselves on the human being who accepts trees as his good neighbors.

Neglect them, desert them as he well may, they still stand in faithful guardianship when he returns.

Standing up thus to all sorts of weather, they are a courageous symbol to man, companions for his every mood.

Though he may blaspheme them for their untidy habits, he loves their rustling in the wind.

He feels elevated by the stately elm and the long-limbed maple, gayer when his eyes fondle the willow, more reliant with the solid oak. And if he has planted saplings and lived beside them as they matured, he is indeed lucky.

For few things are more satisfying than to have started great trees out on their fine mission to the world.

What This Country Needs

WE never did believe that a good five-cent cigar would do the country much good. As for dollar whisky, we tasted some of that circa 1920-1933, and we won't mind it if we never do get another snifter. Two-dollar shirts and five-dollar shoes? Well, for those we could go.

But what this country really needs is a $500 automobile, a car without a bit of gunk but guaranteed to run from here to there—and on not too much gas. Comes now the news that the British Ford people are going to put out a car to sell at $770.

This should be the challenge of the century to Detroit even if, because of inflation and all that, the price tag must read $775. And there was a time when . . . Remember?

Recruit Youth to End Crime

A Solution for Crime

To the Editor: In order to combat crime in and around Pottstown, I have a plan and a few suggestions that I believe would help a lot.

Why not do like Bryson Turner, chief of police in Royersford, has done? He organized a junior police department. We should have men like Bryson Turner here in Pottstown!

You have to have the goodwill of the men on the force before you will have a competent and dependable and cooperative police department.

So get rid of your burgess and chief of police and anyone else in the department who participates in your crummy politics.

Put someone in there that the people like.

Recruit the boys and girls of junior high, senior high and from every class room in all the local schools, including Stowe and Sanatoga.

Have a meeting once or twice a month. Hold them at the high school auditorium or at the YMCA. Elect officers among the young people.

Have two delegates from each classroom attend all the meetings.

I say two delegates in case one is ill and can't attend. Both delegates should attend all meetings in order to create incentive and interest in this junior police organization.

Establish a reward fund just like some of the businessmen are doing at the present. Reward each junior policeman or policeman for any information leading to the arrest and conviction of a criminal or who-so-ever may break the law.

And that includes arsonists and people who turn in false alarms.

To create perpetual interest in this organization hold swimming parties, roller skating parties, and dancing, have outings like picnics, doggie roasts, and hukes, etc.

You could even form a junior police rifle club.

After this junior police gang gets into full swing, I am willing to bet that all future crooks will avoid Pottstown; and I'm not a gambling man either!

Try it! I'm sure it will work!

The girls and boys of Pottstown will show interest and pride in their new hobby. They will be proud to have helped catch a dangerous criminal.

Wouldn't it be nice if all your young people of Pottstown and all your policemen would turn out to be real buddies?

Experience With Drunk

To the Editor: To those of you who drive automobiles!

If you want to get a real scarey thrill, just follow (at a safe distance) a drunken driver. He runs on and off the road, zigzags in the other driver's lane coming toward him.

You wonder how he just made it past that giant tractor trailer coming toward him, and he narrowly misses a concrete culvert while passing it.

He almost rammed into the back of a school bus, and he passed it before he was supposed to and almost hit two cute little girls.

At a dangerous intersection he goes through a stop sign; and on the other side he nearly scraped two shining new parked cars.

To you readers: It could have been your child or your car that was almost hit!

Now to top it all—the drunk throws out of his car window a big whisky bottle, breaking it all over the highway in jagged pieces.

Now me, if I were a cop, I could have thrown the book at him.

Bus As Hearse

To the Editor: I agree with the reader who said funerals with police escorts should be banned (Objects to Processions, Readers Say, Oct. 26).

But I have a solution in answer to his objection.

Why not have funeral directors put a large specially constructed bus at the disposal of their patrons?

The body would be placed in a rack and suspended from the ceiling. The mourners would then be seated along the sides of the vehicle as they would in a regular bus.

Thus there would be only one vehicle to make the trip to the cemetery and everyone would remain together.

The bus could take its time and those officiating at the ceremony could lead the group in prayer each time the bus pauses for a traffic light.

How 'Bout Newly-Weds?

To the Editor: While we're on the subject of cutting out police-escorted processions for the dead, how about doing something about newly-weds who are sped about town amid loud horn blowing.

If they want to make a lot of noise, why don't they blow their horns during the wedding reception? Then they can slip quietly away.

Besides, in a few months they'll be locking horns and wondering why they ever married each other.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

JUNE F. is a pretty high school senior.

"Dr. Crane, I don't know what to do," she said, anxiously. "For I've been going steady with the most popular boy in my class."

"But he wants to carry his petting too far. When I protest, he says all the other girls do what he wants and I am only old-fashioned."

"And now he threatens to jilt me if I don't give in to him entirely. That would be almost more than I could stand, for it would be so humiliating to my pride."

"Is it true that most girls give in to their boy friends before marriage?"

NO, IT IS not true. And boys who try to use this mob pressure on girls are simply bullies.

They belong in the same class as grammar schoolers who also try to employ similar mob psychology on their parents.

"All the other kids have bicycles!" such youngsters will positively exclaim, as they hope thereby to force a bicycle from Daddy and Mother.

"All the other kids get to see two movies a week," they will argue, though they haven't any actual evidence at all.

You unmarried girls should read this column and thus get forewarned about the behavior of boys, for they are just as predictable as the weather.

YOUNG MEN usually date girls because of the ego-inflation which they obtain. They want to feel important, so they will try to use you girls to bolster their own social inferiority complexes.

For instance, a boy who isn't sure of himself among his own age group, will try to advertise his apparent "manhood."

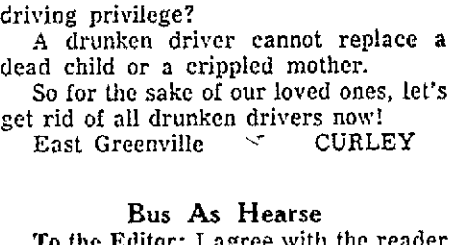

So he will smoke cigars. He may also use profanity. He may drink beer or even whiskey, and loudly boast about how "tight" he got last night!

Then he may drive the car beyond the speed limits in order to make you girls gasp or cry out in protest, for he thinks he thus stands out as a bold, big he-man.

Actually, all of these things label him as a juvenile who hasn't matured emotionally, but who is pathetically eager to be thought a big shot.

If he dates a girl, he will naturally attempt to do whatever he thinks will stamp him as an older, more sophisticated male.

By DON HOPE

(White Miss Gwynn is on vacation, her column is being conducted by Don Hope.)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26—It is well known that among the Hollywood greats and near-greats are several who've taken up painting in recent years. Some for a hobby, others quite seriously.

And many have already won acclaim with exhibitions of their prize-winning canvases. Their talents range from portrait-painting through landscapes and still life and among the stars who do brilliant dabbling are Claudette Colbert, Harpo Marx, Clifton Webb, Eleanor Parker, Van Johnson, Ginger Rogers, Lew Ayres, Olivia de Havilland. Also Mrs. Dore Schary, wife of MGM's studio chief. I remind you of this because a new sort of "good-will for Hollywood" tour is being planned in the nature of a "Hollywood Art Caravan."

Those mentioned above, along with others, will each contribute a painting, to be sent around the USA and exhibited under the auspices of an organization now being set up. All proceeds will go to charities in the cities where the art is shown.

KEENAN WYNN, at the invitation of Gen. Curtis Le May, was set to compete in the Air Forces auto-races at March Field, California, first week in November. But instead he planes East next week for personal appearances in Boston, New York and other cities.

He'll ballyhoo "All the Brothers Were Valiant!" . . . Phyllis Kirk writes from England, "what this country needs is a good delicatessen." . . . Charles Coburn, his monocle and his many talents go into "The Long Wait." This is the new Mickey Spillane picture starring Anthony Quinn and Gene Evans.

MEL FERRER is in Hollywood after many months in N. Africa and England where he starred with Cornel Wilde in "Saudia" among other activities. Ferrer is trying to get squared off with his Mrs. and smooth over their domestic upheaval as quickly as possible.

Mel is in the midst of directing a B-way stage show, "Family Affair" (written by Edmond O'Brien's brother, Liam) and is due to leave for Africa again shortly. There Ferrer will direct and star in "South of Sahara" which is being produced by Tony Bartley, husband of Deborah Kerr.

Rumor, pure rumor — and I give it to you for what it's worth: That Rita Hayworth and Dick Haymes may rush to Argentina and set up residence there, prior to any decision on his being deported. I'm told the pair thinks this move is the only way by which Haymes could apply for re-entry into the United States.

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WHEN THE physical aspects of a disability have been coped with, the physician tries to rehabilitate the individual so that he may again become a useful and productive member of society.

This is true no matter how major or minor the handicap may be. Not only his physical health, but also his emotional health, and that of his family, depend on good or bad rehabilitation of the patient.

There are many factors that determine whether he will again be able to care for himself in a productive way. If an individual is healthy at birth and is disabled before the age of 30, the chances of compensating for the disorder and achieving gainful employment are good.

The older the person, the more difficulty he has in adjusting to his handicap. However, if a person is disabled at birth, he often has a more difficult time in successfully obtaining a job.

Of course, the higher the intelligence of the person, the easier it will be for him to obtain employment. Many a disabled person is forced to use his thinking power as a means of earning a living once his limbs have been disabled.

It has been found that those having higher forms of education, such as high school and college, more readily adapt themselves to finding employment once they are disabled.

The Bowler's Line

Some of the best scores turned in by Pottstown bowlers the past week came from men in the mixed leagues at the Arrow alleys.

Art Shaffer rolled a blistering 243 game in the Sunday Night Mixed league and that was only 11 pins lower than the best game of the week. Shaffer finished out his series at 608, also a high. Doris Kemp and Dot Dames scored 153 to tie for top single, but Shirley Mauger was more consistent to gain high three, 417. Peas won both team prizes, 870 and 2240.

In another mixed league at Arrow, the St. Aloysius Social club bowler, Henry Koch tabbed a 223 single. He split individual honors with Bill Kulp, whose 607 was the high cluster. Rita Browne monopolized the women's scoring with 159 and 444. Cherokees had the best single game, 750, and Incas combined for high triple, 2129.

An individual triple record was set in the Doehler league by Lou Mack. His 678 series broke Dave Swinehart's former standard of 265. Mack had games of 213, 201 and 234 to help his W. M. First quintet gain both team awards, 992 and 2656. The team single threatened Aluminum Cleaning No. 2's season high of 1025. George Moore's average slipped three points to 182.5 but he still retained the lead over Ed Yost, 181.5, and Swinehart, 177.9. Mack's big night boosted him from 12th to fourth place with 177.1.

Other outstanding features of the Doehler league were Willie Astheimer's 606 series and Nevin Yerger's 231 game. Maintenance continues to lead the league with a 15-6 record.

One of the high single games for the week was recorded by Earl Benz, 245, in the Firestone Men's league at Arrow. He failed to hold the pace however, and Jim Fogarty won high triple prize with 553. The Fighting 5 took team single honors, 913, and Nutcrackers placed first in the triple, 2509.

MASKS had one of the better team single games for the week in the West End Fire company circuit on Monday night. Masks tallied 979, but Hooks took the triple blue ribbon with 2596 and increased its league lead to 20-4. Joe Surman continued to pace the league with a 190 average and helped it out with a 217 game. Francis Kalis had high triple of 598, including a 254 game. That was the best game reported during the week.

In the Friday loop at West End, John Koren flipped a 201 high single and Andy Slaby scored two three, 535. Ladders and Lights split team single and triple honors with 820 and 2263 respectively. Doug Ludwig's 178 is still high average and Adaptors hold the top rung with a 17-7 mark.

Bethlehem Steel league bowlers were not up to par as Paul Edleman captured top single prize with 201. The only other 200 game was Art Pashley's. Paul Miller, 523, and Lin Batman, 516, had the best clusters. The Eagles nudged Bars for team triple by 18 pins with 2360, and Bars also had to settle for second money in the single department, four pins shy of Plates' 818 total.

The Friday night league race at the Eagles alleys was tightened up as Penn, captained by Charlie Turret Lathes dominated a team Kulp, won four points to pull up to play with 832 and 2325.

Giardello Decisions Cartier in 10

BROOKLYN, Oct. 26 (P)—Joey left hook to the chin. The 23-year-old Giardello, high-ranking Philadelphia middleweight contender, finished tonight to punch out the New Yorker all over an unanimous decision over Walter Cartier of New York in a welterweight bout. The referee ruled cast 10-rounder at Eastern Parkway Arena, Giardello, a 9-5 favorite, weighed 158½ to Cartier's 160.

This was a bruising battle all the way and just about even through the first six rounds. Then Giardello's combination punches proved too much for the left-hooking Cartier.

The votes, all for Giardello, were: Referee Pete Scalzo, 5-4-1; Judge Harold Barnes, 7-2-1; and Judge Artie Schwartz, 8-1-1. The AP score-board had Giardello in front 6-3-1.

Although there were no knock-downs, both fighters were shaken several times in the free-swinging fray. The 29-year-old Cartier was almost knocked out in a punching bee that lasted throughout the ninth round.

Cartier started off the hectic frame by rocking Giardello with a within a half game of the first-place California team. Ray Erb bowled the best single, 230, and Al Berthold best triple, 612. Princeton and California, split four games and also each won a team prize. The Tigers had the high single, 947, and the Bears took high triple, 2547.

On Monday night at the Eagles, Bill Smale tossed a 212 game, best of the evening, and Bob Shaner captured the triple pennant with 591. Idaho narrowly missed being tied for first place as it lost three out of four games to Arizona, and the victors now trail by only one game. Auburn was the front-running team in scores with 897 and 2513.

ED KIRK'S loft 232 game and Joe Hospador's 596 triple were the best individual efforts in the Eagles Tuesday Night loop. Kirk had a 593 triple to pace Dartmouth to a three-point win over Hospador's Michigan crew. Dartmouth took both team trophies with 971 and 2629. The latter score was second only to the Doehler league's high triple. Leigh leads the Tuesday league by one point over Chicago.

No 200 games were reported by the girls this week although Helen Mercer just missed with 199 in the Girls Rookie League at Arrow. Reliable Lois Adams again won the triple with 519. Kiddettes were the single leaders with 758 and triple winner was Shamrocks, 2139.

Barbara Graver swept honors in the Firestone Girls league at Arrow with a series of 467 which included a 178 game.

Bessie Brendlinger had a 166-186-528 series, her final game being best of the night in the Woman's Classic loop at Arrow the past Wednesday. She was pressed by Mrs. Jean Dressler, 182, and Mrs. Sara Yeager, 180. Other good triples were Mrs. Mary McCord, 501, and Mrs. Dressler, 497. Lane Ducks won the team single banner with 735 but finished third in the triple ratings with 2002. Rips won the triple with 2059 on games of 667-698-694.

ALBERT WEINER topped the leggers in the Independent loop at Arrow with a 231 game. The high triple was bowled by Charlie Kirkhoff, 565, and Red Devils won both team prizes, 878 and 2476.

Scores were lower than usual in the Church league as Allen Missimer's 207 was good for the single award. Reds Hill had the best three games, 533. Limerick reformed No. 1 topped the team singles with a respectable 944, and Spring City Reformed No. 1 was good for a 2614 triple.

Frank Bellini was bowler of the week in the Jacobs Aircraft league at Arrow with totals of 212 and 520, up as Penn, captained by Charlie Turret Lathes dominated a team Kulp, won four points to pull up to play with 832 and 2325.

Baltimore Orioles Sign Arthur Ehlers As General Manager

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (P)—Art Ehlers, who was a 6-year-old kid playing in Baltimore streets when major league baseball left here, was hired today to be general manager of the Orioles' return to the American League next season.

Ehlers brings to the new organization which succeeds the St. Louis Browns a background of 16 years as a baseball official, the last two as general manager of the Philadelphia Athletics.

His contract with the Athletics had expired and he agreed to a three-year pact with the Orioles. "The extent of his compensation will depend largely upon the success of the club in Baltimore," said Clarence W. Miles, a whirlwind of a lawyer who masterminded purchase and transfer of the Browns on Sept. 29.

MILES EXPLAINED that the 56-year-old Ehlers will be paid a flat salary, undisclosed, plus a bonus depending on attendance. "Ehlers will have complete authority to run the ball club," Miles continued. "I would assume he would tie in with us as far as financial matters are concerned, but just as long as he doesn't mortgage the ball club he will have free rein."

Miles is to head a group of financiers putting up $2,475,000 to buy controlling interest of the Browns. It also has promised to put up more money "for additional player material," saying "the old St. Louis policy of selling players to get cash to operate on is a thing of the past."

Miles displayed his brisk methods of operating in coming to agreement with Ehlers. The selection had been up in the air for 10 days while he took a hospital rest. He was released late last week.

Late this morning, he sent out word there would be a new conference. At 3 p. m. he read a five-sentence statement of Ehlers' appointment. "My agreement with Mr. Ehlers was reached this morning," he said. It was only half an hour before the announcement that he telephoned Roy Mack, vice president of the Athletics, and told him of Ehlers' acceptance.

MACK SAID the Athletics told Ehlers "We wouldn't stand in his way if he could improve himself, and he assured me he wouldn't leave unless he could get a much better proposition." Mack said there will be no rush to replace Ehlers, adding "I don't know if we'll have a new GM or not."

Ehlers became general manager in 1950 when Connie Mack quit. He had been directing the farm system of the Athletics since 1947.

Bill DeWitt, a vice president and former owner of the Browns, will have that job for the Orioles, Miles said. A contract which DeWitt had with the Browns still has three years to run.

The next major Oriole appointment is that of field manager. Marty Marion still has a year to go on his St. Louis contract.

Ehlers, who will make the decision, and Miles both said no discussion has been held yet about whether Marion will be retained.

"You've got to say that he is the manager at the moment," Ehlers said. He added he expects to talk to Marion in a week or 10 days.

Spartans, Tech Drop

Fighting Irish Pick Up More Poll Popularity

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (P)—Notre Dame's victory over Georgia Tech brought a new wave of popularity today for the Fighting Irish, who tightened their grip on the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press' weekly football poll.

Georgia Tech, its unbeaten string snapped at 31 games, and Michigan State, upset by Purdue after a winning string of 28, managed to hold positions in the top ten but had to be content with lower rungs. State fell from second to sixth and Tech from fourth to eighth.

Maryland's high-riding Terrapins, meanwhile, moved into second place on an imposing record of six straight victories while undefeated Baylor and one-tied Illinois followed in that order.

Two victims of last week's uprising of the underdogs, Michigan and Navy, tumbled clear out of the select bracket, their vacancies taken over by a couple of Pacific Coast powerhouses—Southern California and UCLA.

Michigan, swamped by Minnesota 22-0 in the Little Brown Jug game, fell from fifth to 16th, a drop of 11 notches, while Navy, downed by Pennsylvania 9-6 on a last minute field goal, dropped from tenth to 20th.

SOUTHERN CAL took over seventh place on the strength of its 32-20 thumping of California. UCLA moved into tenth after humbling Washington State, 44-7.

Unconquered West Virginia made one of the week's better gains, moving up from eighth to fifth after thumping VMI, 52-20. Only Oklahoma stayed still. The Sooners, recovering from an early season loss and tie, kept a firm hold on ninth place.

In what should be a real tonic for their ailing head Coach Frank Leahy, the Irish received 82 of the 120 first place votes cast by sports writers and broadcasters, and no body else was close.

Maryland was considered the nation's best team by 18 of the voters and West Virginia given the nod by 15. No other team had more than two.

The point total is figured on the basis of ten for a first place vote, nine for a second, etc. Notre Dame got only 57 No. 1 votes last week when Michigan State was second with 31. This week Michigan State received none.

THE FIGHTING IRISH haven't been out of first place since the writers and broadcasters picked them as the most likely national champion in the pre-season poll.

The men of South Bend solidified their position by whipping highly rated Georgia Tech, 27-14, playing the last half without Coach Leahy, who was stricken at halftime in intermission. Leahy is reported greatly improved.

The top ten (first place votes and team records in parentheses):

1. Notre Dame (82) (4-0) ..... 1222
2. Maryland (41) (6-0) ..... 1016
3. Baylor (21) (5-0) ..... 748
4. Illinois (4-0-1) ..... 691
5. West Virginia (13) (5-0) ..... 452
6. Michigan State (4-1) ..... 451
7. Southern California (5-0-1) ..... 405
8. Georgia Tech (4-1-1) ..... 376
9. Oklahoma (1) (5-1-1) ..... 354
10. UCLA (1) (5-1) ..... 235

The second ten: 11. Southern Methodist 119; 12. Rice 98; 13. Duke 85; 14. Minnesota 58; 15. Army 57; 16. Michigan (1) 50; 17. Stanford 44; 18. Mississippi 42; 19. Kentucky 42; 20. Navy 41.

Others receiving more than ten votes were: Kansas State 28, Louisiana State 23, Utah 21, Mississippi Southern 15, Ohio State 14.

Middies Gird For Irish Game

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 26 (P)—Navy's once-beaten football team got into heavy gear today as it prepared for a rough week of practice before Saturday's game with unbeaten Notre Dame.

The Middies, dropped from the unbeaten ranks 9-6 Saturday by Penn, heard scouts tell them the nation's top ranked team has not yet reached its peak.

Then they went out to try their stuff against the junior varsity gridgers.

One of the reasons for the hard work was head scout Frank Foster's report on the Irish eleven. "There's no question about this being our supreme test to date," he said. "It will take a mighty fine football team to beat Notre Dame any Saturday of the season."

The Middies will go into South Bend looking for the first Navy victory over the Irish since the 32-13 triumph of 1944.

Wee Willie Boots Home Three Winners

ALBANY, Calif., Oct. 26 (P)—Willie Shoemaker booted home three more winners—including Home Free in the featured Inverness Handicap—before 7719 fans at Golden Gates Fields today to run his world record of season victories up to 407.

Except for a couple of shut-out days after he passed the former world mark of 390 a week and a half ago, the silent Shoe has been scoring regularly. TOUW writers predict he'll come close to 450 before New Year's.

He had Home Free off first, in the mile and a sixteenth handicap, took over the lead at the half-way pole and outlasted Boomerang Boy in the stretch. The Green Lion was third.

Rogel Breaks Nose

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26 (P)—The Pittsburgh Steelers said today full-back Franny Rogel fractured his nose in the 31-14 victory over the Green Bay Packers in a National Football League contest Saturday.

However, the former Penn State star expects to drill with the squad tomorrow in preparation for the clash with the Philadelphia Eagles next Sunday.

Majors in Oakland Soon, Says Dressen

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26 (P)—Chuck Dressen hinted today that Oakland may be the site for a major league baseball club.

The ex-manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who will pilot the Oaks in the Pacific Coast league next season, arrived by plane enroute to his new job.

"I think a great opportunity exists at Oakland," said the manager who helped bring the Dodgers two straight National league flags. "I'll get as good a deal there as Brooklyn offered."

Emergency

STURGIS, Mich., Oct. 26 (P)—Ike Stroup, 70, was hunting for squirrel and got a deer—the hard way.

Stroup said a big buck attacked him. He lost his gun in the scuffle, he told conservation officers, so pulled out his knife and slashed the animal to death.

Tony DeSpirito Rides 5 Winners

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (P)—Tony DeSpirito made a personal triumph out of Lincoln Downs' opening program of the Fall meeting today, riding five consecutive winners and finishing third in another race.

The Lawrence, Mass., jockey, who topped the nation's riders with 390 wins last year, ran his total for the year to 297. He has missed more than 100 racing days because of suspensions and illnesses.

In the featured inaugural purse over seven furlongs for $3500, DeSpirito guided J. M. Lingle's Valenciano to a length victory over Lou V. Barbieri's My Truly Fair. Another three lengths back were the Reynolds Brothers' Haskell and Mrs. J. M. Bramham's Four Night who finished in a dead heat for third.

Valenciano, timed in 1:27, paid $5.40, $3.20 and $2.40.

DeSpirito's other winners were Andros, $4.60, in the fourth; Klimie, $6.20, in the fifth; Can't Please, $7.60, in the sixth; and Tampero for $4.80 in the eighth. He finished third on Platterette in the second.

Skippack Gra-Y Sels Hallowe'en Parade Saturday Afternoon

SKIPPACK—Mrs. Wm. Kirk, R. D. 1, Collegeville, Pa., Phone Collegeville 7000, H. Hobbs, del., Phone Pottstown 6000.

Skippack Gra-Y are sponsoring a Hallowe'en parade Saturday. The parade will assemble at Hallman Grove at 1:30 and will march at 2 p. m. through Skippack and will end up with refreshments at the fire house.

Prizes, which will be awarded by the Skippack Lions club, will be given for the funniest, best and most original costumes for girls and boys, couples, and family groups. All residents of the township are invited, and in case of rain, there will be a party for the children at the fire house.

The Women's guild of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church held its October meeting at the church with 45 members attending.

A dramatic skit in eight scenes "What Makes Mary Tick?" or "How Church Women are Meeting the Challenge of Our Day" was presented, with Jean Weber as Mary, and a supporting cast as follows: Mrs. Robert Kline, Mrs. George Kurgan, Mrs. Copeland Cassel, Mrs. Harry Pearce, Mrs. Raymond Place, Mrs. Willard Keiff, Mrs. Ann Black. The narrators were Mrs. Robert Unruh and Mrs. John Keyser. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wentzel, Mrs. Yurick and Mrs. Kober.

The new officers of the guild are, President, Mrs. Herbert Boocock, Vice President Mrs. Walton Kober, Secretary Alice LeFever and Treasurer Mrs. C. Kepler Tyson.

Local Lions Club To Entertain Official

The Pottstown Lions club will entertain a district governor of its organization tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Eagles Home association quarters.

The official is F. A. Lucente, district governor of a four-county district in the Philadelphia area.

Lucente, who lives in Glenside, is a former president of the Lions club there and is a Master Key member. He has served as a zone chairman, as deputy district governor and on the extension committee on Lions International, which has 30,316 clubs in 45 countries.

Lucente will be accompanied tonight by Deputy District Gov. John J. Culp and zone chairman Paul W. Barndt.

The meeting will be in charge of President Edward J. Sweeney.

SMUT BACK —

all" by smut investigators the past January.

The smut situation has changed. Of ten stores checked where magazines were sold, six of them contained no copies of the "girly" magazines.

But in the other four—right in the center of the borough—abnormally developed girls in subnormally undeveloped costumes were plastered in exotic poses on dozens of magazines whose pages were devoted entirely to the display of nearly nude women.

The book purchased by the juvenile concerned itself totally with sex. It included articles on sex, sex hygiene, sex methods, fetishes, wedding-night etiquette and diagrams and sketches to elaborate the article.

This was the book cited (not by name) the past Jan. 12 by the Rev. Donald T. Floyd, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Congregational church, when he launched the smut campaign at a meeting of borough council.

The "girly" magazines purchased contained printed articles on various subjects connected directly or indirectly with sex, also BUT BESIDES these magazines, a study of the pocket books on sale reveals that the preoccupation with sex, both obscene and perverted, continues to mount.

Several novels and "confession" books dealt with homosexuality among both sexes.

Others, supposedly "slice of life novels," deal with call girls, dope fiends, sex murderers, and husband-wife "experiments."

Next to these are the hundreds of comic books, streamlined over yesterday's to take advantage of a more sophisticated youth.

DR. C. R. PENTZ TO OPEN OFFICE

He'll Specialize in Obstetrics and Gynecology

Announcement was made yesterday that Dr. Clarence R. Pentz has opened an office at 348 High street where he will specialize in obstetrics and gynecology.

For more than 15 years before coming to Pottstown, Dr. Pentz practiced in Long Beach, Calif.

He has recently completed one year of graduate study at the University of Pennsylvania

and one year of work at St. Luke's hospital, Bethlehem, under the university's supervision.

Following that study, he was accepted by the American college of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Dr. Pentz's wife is the daughter of the late W. H. Saylor and Mrs. Saylor, Kenilworth. The couple will live in North Coventry.

make the love scenes seem more life-like

And still another new type of small magazine has sprung up in the past few months. These purport to be picture magazines that also give news coverage.

But a look inside reveals that the "news" coverage is devoted almost entirely to the relaxations of Broadway chorus girls, the scenes behind the scenes of a beauty contest, the newest Hollywood starlet bathing in milk, or the other extreme, cannibals whipping one another in darkest Africa.

DURING the campaign against such literature being sold the past February, the Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, said from his pulpit:

"If the district attorney of Montgomery county doesn't have the courage to express an opinion of them, there are those of us who have. They are just plain smut. The big problem is what to do about them."

The committee of clergy and businessmen thought the problem had been solved in mid-February when they held a meeting with the two men who distribute most of the magazines and books through Pottstown.

At that time the two distributors said they'd co-operate in every way possible to help stop the smut problem.

Girl Treated for Dog Bite

Bernice Peroni, 413 South street, was treated in the office of Dr. S. Russell Ash, yesterday afternoon for a dog bite on the upper lip and nose.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A SURVIVING MEMBER of one of the First Families of Virginia, notes Cleveland Amory, became annoyed with the horde of Yankee tourists visiting her state. Reminded that these tourists enriched Virginia's coffers by about a hundred million dollars yearly, the unappeased F. F. V. insisted, "That's all very well—but couldn't they just send the money?"

There's one successful songwriter who plagiarizes the masters so flagrantly that he hasn't a friend in the profession. "Whenever good old So-and-so," declares a Tin Pan Alley wit, "hears a melody that he likes, he rushes home and writes it."

Fate had been cruel to a close friend of the nightclub favorite, Joe E. Lewis. He married a girl who looked like a siren—and now she sounds like one.

World Peace Is Goal Of Rotary Clubs, Says Daniel Bause

"Rotary clubs in 86 countries and geographical regions throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace."

That was the message of Daniel E. Bause, Sr., Boyertown, governor of District 265 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary club last night at the Boyertown Inn, following a conference with local Rotary officers, directors and committee chairman.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 8000 clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Bause explained, "Rotary International has spent more than $1,350,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowships, which enables outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as ambassadors of good will."

"Since this program was established in 1947, 493 Rotary fellowships have been awarded to students in 55 countries. A recent student from the Rotary foundation has just completed his studies at Queen's college, England," according to Bause.

BAUSE STATED that Arlan P. Dohrenburg, Hamburg, desired to further his studies in England and that the Rotary foundation made this possible.

Bause pointed out that each foreign student goes home to his respective country with a rich experience of the country he lived and studied in for a year.

"With fellowship and service to others as a keynote, Rotary provides a common ground for 372,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of differing nationalities or political or religious beliefs," Bause concluded.

Figure heads and other carvings on ships of the 17th and 18th centuries were sometimes so heavy as to damage their sailing qualities.

Two Given 20 Years For Rape, Kidnaping

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26 (AP)—Two 21-year-old youths drew 20-year sentences in Federal prison today for kidnaping and raping a 20-year-old East Liverpool, Ohio, woman.

Both Francis L. McDole, Smith's Ferry, and Benjamin B. Williams, East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to the charges.

Judge Wallace S. Gourley also sentenced the pair to five years for auto theft, the terms to run concurrently.

They kidnaped the Ohio woman and her boy friend at gun-point two months ago, the FBI said, and drove them to Beaver county, Pa., where they attacked her and robbed her friend. Then they took her to Ohio and raped her again, Federal agents said. The FBI arrested them several weeks later.

Cars Serviced by Pender Brothers Will Weather Winter's Biggest Woes

Proper care of a car means longer life, better performance, lower garage bills!

All of which means you should make periodic visits to a reputable service station and have an attendant lubricate the car, change the oil in the crankcase, all at 1000-mile intervals—look at the spark plugs, hose connections and radiator.

And especially now that the

Have Daniel Keene Check Your TV Set For Winter Service

The nights are getting longer and colder and soon most of us will be spending more time indoors than during the hot weather.

That means the radio and TV set will come in for a lot of attention to keep the family circle properly entertained. Naturally they are in use more during the cold-weather months than Summer when people are outdoors so much.

All of which brings up the question: Is your set working satisfactorily?

If not your trouble can be corrected if you phone 5288 and ask for Daniel J. Keene, 172 Reynolds avenue, who specializes in servicing radios and television sets of all makes. You'll get expert service and at low cost. And then you can really enjoy your radio or TV. Certainly there is nothing that will cause so much unhappiness in a family as a set that isn't functioning perfectly. Your entire evening is spoiled.

Phone 5288 if you are having trouble and Mr. Keene will come right out on the job and do his best to correct it.

Short Line Company Provides Speedy and Safe Transportation

Speed in transportation yet safety is desired by every traveler today who thinks about it sensibly.

Well, you'll get there safely and perhaps just as fast as if you drove your own car by taking the Short Line which serves Chester county and this entire area so well.

For by the time you park your car and worry about getting a "ticket" or run back and forth several times to "feed" a parking meter, the Short Line will take you to your destination—no parking problems, and more economically! And safely!

That's why, especially with winter and icy and snowy roads coming on you'll find it to your advantage in every way to travel via the Short Line!

Big safe buses, courteous drivers, low fare, all add up to sensible transportation.

Use the Short Line between Pottstown and West Chester for finer, safer, more economical travel. Buses operate daily from the Reading station.

New Books Aiding Literature Classes

By LEE ASSEO

The Ninth grade English classes, under the direction of John DeVincentis, have now begun their study of literature. Both sections have received new books, "Good Times Through Literature," for this study. To accompany these books the pupils have also received new workbooks, "Thing-It-Through Book."

These workbooks contain a variety of exercises which require thought and effort on the part of the pupil. They test the pupils' ability to read and understand. This is done by a number of questions at the end of each short story.

There also are many exercises designed to improve the pupils' reading speed, reasoning powers and vocabulary. DeVincentis hopes these workbooks will improve his classes' standard of work.

11th Grade Pupils Study Greece, Make Comparison

By DAVID LAKE

The 11th grade history class is studying about Greece. The teacher, Miss Jesse Delp, had two Greek women visit the class. They told about Greece and showed to the class several articles that were made in Greece. The class then compared Greece with the United States.

In the Tenth grade history class, the pupils are studying about the Revolutionary War.

Tenth Grade Classes Are Making Study Of Short Stories

By BETTY ANN CLARK

The Tenth grade English classes are taught by Kenneth Miller. The academic-vocational section has been working with literature for the past three weeks. They have read three short stories, "The Most Dangerous Game," "The Antelope," "The Second Rater," and have analyzed the main characters in each.

The commercial and general section have completed a unit which has familiarized them with the library. Among other aspects of the library that they have discussed was the founder of the library classification system, Melvil Dewey.

The members of the classes are now learning how to express themselves by studying various types of paragraphs. They practice writing examples of each type.

Seventh Grade Class Names New Officers

By FAYE ARION

In the Seventh grade class of North Coventry High school the following class officers were elected: President, Gail Anderson; vice president, Veronica Cisarlik; secretary and treasurer, Corrine Schrack.

The history classes are studying the country of Egypt. They are studying the British Isles in geography. During their classes the pupils drew maps showing physical features and rivers. The seventh grade teacher is Miss Lane, who also is their homeroom teacher.

Arithmetic Classes Study Fundamentals

By LUCILLE SWAVELY

The Eighth grade arithmetic classes, under the supervision of C. J. Brey, have received new modern textbooks. The text pays careful attention to the fundamentals of the course.

The first weeks were devoted to reviewing the fundamentals so all pupils may have a good foundation to continue the year's work.

We stressed that pupils should learn to think and to be reasonably certain before they write solutions. We also emphasized the importance of neatness, legibility and orderliness, as well as accuracy.

Two Fifth Grade Classes Preparing Art Projects

By BARBARA BUCKWALTER

The two Fifth grades of North Coventry elementary school are working on unusual art projects. Mr. Langford's room is painting a mural on prehistoric animals. Dinosaurs of all types and sizes are displayed on the mural.

Mr. Wynn's room is planning a project to study rocks and crystals. They will have a table display of various rocks and crystals with names and labels attached. The pupils are studying the origin and sources of rocks. The class is painting a large mural backdrop for this display. The scene is of volcanoes and large green ferns.

FAST Cough Relief

Creomulsion spreads a comforting film over throat membranes, gives relaxing aid, helps expel clogging phlegm, goes into the bronchial system for still greater comfort and relief.

CREOMULSION
relieves Coughs, Chest Colds, Acute Bronchitis

Twilight Ceremony in Emmanuel Lutheran Church Unites Ann Carlene Dilliplane, William K. Neiman

Candlelight nuptials performed by the Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse in the Emmanuel Lutheran church united in marriage Ann Carlene Dilliplane and William K. Neiman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dilliplane, 41 West Fifth street. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Neiman, 53 Chestnut street.

A musical recital before the ceremony by Mrs. William Hellyer, church organist, included "O Perfect Love," "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a strapless gown of pale pink nylon net over taffeta, topped with a taffeta bolero jacket. Iridescent highlights the ballerina length gown with its bouffant skirt. The short jacket had elbow length sleeves and a rolled collar.

Two bands of small pink velvet flowers held her shoulder length veil of pale pink tulle. She carried a white Bible with a very pale lavender orchid.

Her jewelry was a heart shaped rhinestone locket and earrings, a gift from the groom.

Honor attendant for the ceremony was Mrs. John F. Mace Jr., Pottstown RD 3. She chose a champagne colored lace over taffeta dress also in ballerina style. It was fashioned with a U-neckline, short sleeves, fitted bodice and a full skirt gathered at the waist.

Her headpiece was a band of yellow and bronze pompons and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of the same.

William A. Griffith, 31 Chestnut street, was the best man for the ceremony.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at 64 West Seventh street, home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Mace Sr.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. Mace, Mrs. Dilliplane and Mrs. Neiman.

Two Parties Are Given for Sherry Baker To Honor Her Fifth Birthday Anniversary

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baker, 316 Rowan avenue, Sherry celebrated her fifth birthday at two parties the past weekend, one for adults Saturday night, and a children's one, Sunday afternoon.

She was completely surprised Saturday when most of the guests appeared in masquerade costumes. Included in the group were: Mrs. James Gleason, Mrs. Jessie Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hollinger, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Williams.

Mrs. Ann Laber, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm DeWitt, Mr. and Mrs. John Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kerr, Mrs. Charles Fulmer, Mrs. Elsie Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Elrod, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bellini, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Weikel.

Mrs. Harold Bernhardt, Mrs. John O'Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Auman, Kay Auman, Mrs. Frances Leightcap.

Though Sunday's festivities honored Sherry, she wasn't the only one receiving gifts. Feature attraction of the party was a fishing pond where each child dropped a line to hook a present.

Anna Mae Gallo, Former Pottstonian, Is Wed To Joseph Paettie Jr. in Merwood Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH R. PAETTIE JR.

Anna Mae Gallo, daughter of Mrs. Angelo Adam Gallo and the late Dr. Gallo, became the bride of Joseph Robert Paettie Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Paettie, Ardmore, at a double ring ceremony in St. Denis Church, Merwood. The Rev. James S. Reilly officiated.

Former residents of 62 North Hanover street, the Gallos now reside at 47 North Hillcrest road, Springfield.

Given in marriage by her brother, Angelo A. Gallo Jr., Chester, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace, fashioned with a high neckline, long sleeves tapered at the wrists, a satin underskirt and a full length train.

Her finger-tip veil was held with a crown of chantilly lace trimmed with shell pearls, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white chrysanthemums and pompons. She also wore a shell pearl necklace.

Maid of honor for the ceremony was Eileen Adams, Bala Cynwyd, a cousin of the bride. She wore a gown of coral cherry, fashioned with a velvet bodice, tulle skirt and velvet jacket, with matching headpiece. Her bouquet was of bronze chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Angelo A. Gallo Jr., Chester, sister-in-law of the bride; Joanne Graeber, Springfield, a cousin of the bride; and Marie Salerno Sharon Hill.

They wore gowns of Arabian peacock blue in the same style as the maid of honor's, with

Donald T. Paettie, Stonehurst, served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Patrick Langon, Beverly Hills; Joseph Langon, Beverly Hills, and Patrick Burke, Washington, D. C., all cousins of the groom.

Mrs. Gallo, mother of the bride, wore a full length gown of silver aqua taffeta with pink trim and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Paettie, the bridegroom's mother, wore a full length gown of ice blue lace with an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Media inn for 150 guests, after which the newlyweds left on their honeymoon to Miami Beach, Fla.

The bride was graduated from Springfield High school in the class of 1950 and from Linden Hall, Lutz, Pa.

Mr Paettie is a graduate of St.

Thomas More High school, class of 1942. During World War II, he served for three years in the US Navy as a radio technician. He is now employed by the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mr and Mrs. Paettie are making their home at 61 Fairview avenue, Clifton Heights.

Pottstown Area's Finest

Hope for the future lies in our schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of the Pottstown area's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

Notice the skyward gaze on the faces of these First graders at Lower Pottsgrove Consolidated school? The photographer made the birdie fly straight up to get them to look that way. It gives them that looking-into-the-future appearance.

Third row, Ronald Fieni, Jo Ann Zendt, Kay Grebe, Lydia Oister and Shirley Ann Bell.

443 Are Included In Hill School X-Rays

A total of 443 persons were given chest X-rays yesterday at The Hill school under the sponsorship of the Montgomery County Tuberculosis and Public Health society and the Christmas Seal sale committee of Pottstown.

Included in the total, photographed from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., were pupils, faculty members, and all school employees, including all food handlers.

Leona Smith, director of the Pottstown Visiting Nurse association said that the work of the mobile X-ray unit is now finished until next Spring.

Civic Symphony Group Will Rehearse Tonight

Pottstown's civic symphony orchestra will rehearse two symphonies at the Moose auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight.

They are Haydn's symphony No. 2 and Beethoven's symphony No. 5. Kenneth Morse, the conductor, has invited all musicians in the Pottstown area to attend.

Oil tankers are now being built to a size of about 45,000 tons.

HIGH SCHOOL TO ISSUE NEW REPORT CARDS

Revised System to Offer Aids for Parents Pupils

Parents of Pottstown Senior High school pupils will receive a completely revised report on their children when the first report of the new year is issued tomorrow afternoon.

The report card has been under consideration for several months and has been subject to the scrutiny of members of the faculty and the administrative staff. The prime purpose of the revision is to give the benefits of more information to both parents and pupils.

The old report card in use for some 20 years or more, gave a simple statement of the marks earned without any effort to explain difficulties, deficiencies or means of improvement. The new card offers the record of the pupil's marks and at the same time gives the teacher an opportunity to explain means of improvement.

The new card which measures five by eight inches carries a message on the front cover from Dr. George A. McCormick and explains the philosophy of the school regarding the general idea of marking the pupils.

The left inside cover indicates the curriculum being followed by the pupil and also the rank in the class gained by him at the end of the past school year.

WITH MORE and more industries asking for this information, as well as the importance attached to rank by most colleges and universities, it is considered advisable to inform both pupils and parents of the relative rank of the pupil concerned.

Below the information regarding curriculum, the subjects taken by the pupils are divided into some 14 major classifications. Space is provided after each classification to insert the name of the specific subject taken by the pupil.

The right inside page lists a number of recommendations of teachers for the improvement of the work of the pupils. Each of the suggestions has been written with the idea of aiding the pupil improve rather than condemning him for his shortcomings.

The last page of the card bears a complete statement of the manner in which pupils are classified in the school, a place for the parent to sign the card, and a place to indicate the need for an interview both by the parent and by the teacher.

New Store Opening Scheduled Tomorrow By Merritt Firm

The Merritt Lumber Yards incorporated will open its new store at 233 High street tomorrow, it was announced yesterday.

The store will open to the public at 9:30 a. m. A special preview by invitation only will be held in the store tonight for merchants, and other trade people. E. K. Lindemuth, manager, said yesterday.

The new store will include both offices in Pottstown for the big lumber company and display room where Pottstonians can see the latest in paint, kitchens, power tools, unpainted furniture, art, gifts and a "Do-It-Yourself" department.

The Merritt company was formed in 1870 in Williamsport. Now the company has offices and branch yards in Reading, Allentown and Pottstown.

Price? Would You Believe It? You Can Own A Packard CLIPPER FOR

$2629* delivered here

Your Packard dealer will show you the year's most newsworthy car
...the new Packard CLIPPER

From the time it was introduced, the new CLIPPER made news

It made news because of quality—real Packard quality that thousands of buyers instantly recognized as meaning more fine-car features for their dollars. Ask the man who owns one!

It made news because of modern contour styling that gives you a better view of the road—ahead, behind, and to each side.

It made news because of the sparkling, smooth-flowing stream of power from its famous Packard engine. Packard has a world reputation as a builder of fine engines. You've heard of Packard engines ever since you took your first car to your heart.

No power like this power

It made news because of power shifting. Packard-designed and Packard-built ULTRAMATIC is generally conceded to be the smoothest, sweetest, safest, surest power shifter available today. And it is used on Packard-built cars exclusively. (Optional at extra cost.)

The new CLIPPER made news for many other reasons, too—not the least among them: its spontaneous public acceptance.

Don't let the big type about "best deal in town" fool you. A best buy is another matter, and the best directions we can give you for finding such a buy is to look up your Packard dealer.

Do that, and you're where the "best deal" is!

Do that, and you'll see for yourself how the new CLIPPER gives you more fine car features per dollar because Packard builds it.

* CLUB SEDAN delivered in POTTSTOWN Plus state and local taxes if any. Optional equipment, including white sidewall tires, extra. Prices may vary slightly in nearby communities due to shipping charges. Manufacturer's suggested retail price.
